Mother, Daughter Killed In Crash

COED PLEADS INNOCENT—Lillian Virginia Lightburn, of Crestline, who is a student at Ohio State university, yesterday pleaded innocent to charges of forgery when arraigned in municipal court in Columbus. Her hearing was set for Jan. 4 and bond of $1,000 was set. Miss Lightburn had been accused of bilking a downtown Columbus store of $2,000 by forging names to charge accounts of customers.

Car Rams Bridge at Ashland

Driver Suffers Serious Injuries

ASHLAND—A 45-year-old mother and her 18-year-old daughter were killed at 11:30 p. m. yesterday when the car in which they were riding struck a steel bridge on State Route 58 two miles north of here.

The driver of the car, husband of the youngest victim, is in Samaritan hospital here where attaches today reported his condition as "fair."

Ashland County Sheriff H. R. Myers identified the victims as Mrs. Nellie Monahan and her daughter, Mrs. Adeline Gannon. They lived at the Sponsler trailer camp on the Cleveland road at the edge of Ashland but within the city limits. The injured driver is Walter Gannon, 20.

Mrs. Monahan was dead on arrival at the hospital while Mrs. Gannon died at 2 a. m. today in the hospital. Dr. A. D. Lewis, of Jeromesville, Ashland county coroner, returned accidental death verdicts.

NECK BROKEN

Mrs. Monahan's neck was broken and her legs were fractured, while Mrs. Gannon suffered a fractured right leg, pelvis and severe head injuries, he said.

Gannon is in the hospital with a possible fractured skull, broken right arm and lacerations of the head and face. The car was demolished.

According to the sheriff there were no witnesses to the crash but deputies believe the car failed to negotiate a sharp curve at the bridge.

The bodies were taken to the Heyl funeral home here pending arrangements. Mrs. Monahan's husband and a step-daughter are said to be in California. She also is survived by a step-sister, Mrs. Esther Roseck of Connorsville, Pa.

Brighten A Christmas

Burned Tots' Dream Of Santa Comes True

Last night in a trailer parked on the outskirts of Mansfield a little two-year-old boy and his three-year-old sister, blankets held firmly under their chins by four chubby hands to ward off the cold, huddled together and dreamed of a rotund old gentleman with long white whiskers.

Even the presence of thick bandages under the chin and on the arm of Donald failed to disturb his sleep as he dreamed of Santa Claus and all the activities in that busy, toyland workshop at the North Pole.

Slowly all the wonderful stories they had heard during the past week unfolded and became real. The General hospital nurses who had described Jolly Old Saint Nick in such an entrancing manner to them became a part of the dreams as the youngsters slep soundly through the night.

This year they knew there was a Santa Claus.

Nearly two weeks ago, Donald and his sister, Christine, were painfully burned while playing too near a heating stove in the Mansfield home where they had been living since coming to Mansfield a month ago.

At that time the future looked pretty dark to their parents, who had moved their small family to Mansfield from a southern city with the prospects of a steady job for the father. However, on arrival in Mansfield the job was not available and funds were low. Then the children were burned.

Infections developed and the children were taken to General hospital for treatment. In a very short time the youngsters won the hearts of their hospital nurses as well as Mansfield doctors.

Monday noon they were released from the hospital, but not before a pre-Christmas visit from Santa Claus who presented them with snowsuits, warm mittens, boots, shoes, and other items of clothing from the nurses and doctors.

In the meantime, while the children were being entertained by stories of Santa Claus and his activities at Christmas time, the parents and their six-month old baby were evicted from their house.

Again the spirit of Santa Claus entered the lives of this small family. Capt. R. L. Gutterman of the Volunteers of America, hearing of the family's plight, arranged for temporary hotel accommodations for the parents and baby, and the Relief department secured a trailer for their future home.

Once again the little family is together, the father starts to work Monday, and the children's burns are healing.

Other less fortunate families in Mansfield, too, are facing a bright Christmas this year. There will be large baskets of food for a Christmas dinner, warm clothings for the children, toys under Christmas trees, and many aged man and women will receive unexpected Christmas gifts of food, clothing, and cash, all made possible by the many Mansfielders who have helped to "Brighten-A-Christmas" for these people through the program sponsored by the News-Journal and the Salvation Army.

Bulge Heroes Said It; Now They Eat 'Em

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— The word for today is "nuts."

Four years ago Maj. Gen. A. C. McAuliffe, commander of the 101st Airborne division, made history at Bastogne, Belgium, when he replied to a German demand to surrender with the classic reply of "nuts!"

About 50 veterans of that fight living in central Ohio gathered here today for a banquet to celebrate. The chief ingredient of the meal will be nuts—nuts in every course: walnuts, hazelnuts, hickory nuts, butternuts and peanuts.

Nuts left over after the dinner will be shipped by air to Bastogne which has been named "The Nuts City" by its proud inhabitants.

ECA Stops East Indies Aid Program

Charge Funds Arming Dutch

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The United States today halted all Marshall plan aid to the Netherlands East Indes pending settlement of hostilities between the Dutch and the Republic of Indonesia.

The action was disclosed in a cable sent by Paul G. Hoffman, Economic Cooperation Administrator, to the chief of the ECA mission in the Netherlands.

A top ECA official said the move came after "full consultation" with the state department.

The text of the cable was not immediately made public. However, it was known that the action cuts off for the present any ECA aid grants to the Netherlands East Indies.

Dr. D. Soemitro, Indonesian envoy had asked Undersecretary of State Lovett to shut off Marshall plan aid to the Dutch, charging the assistance was being used to crush the Indonesian republic.

The Dutch ambassador, Eelco Van Kleffens, denied any recovery funds have been used to arm Dutch troops.

Apparently the suspension of recovery grants to the Netherlands Far Eastern territories does not affect ECA allocations to the Dutch homelands. However, there was no immediate clarification on this score.

So far, ECA has approved Marshall plan grants to the Netherlands totaling $298,564,675 and $61,790,958 to the East Indies.

The action suspending aid to Indonesia was the second such move in as many days. ECA Chief Paul G. Hoffman yesterday announced the dropping, for the time being, of $70,000,000 in reconstruction aid for China.

Top War Criminals Executed

Seven Die By Hanging

(Compiled From Wire Services)

TOKYO — Ex-Premier Hideki Tojo and six top-ranking wartime leaders of Japan have been hanged on the gallows at Sugamo prison, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced early today.

Only a small group of unidentified military officials stood beside the four newly-erected gallows when Tojo and the six men who were convicted of starting the war of aggression in the Pacific plunged to their deaths.

The announcement of the hangings came shortly after midnight in an official release from MacArthur's public information office.

Executed with Tojo as architects of Japan's Pacific aggression were Gen. Kenji Doihara, 65, so-called "Lawrence of Manchuria;" former Premier Koki Hirota, 70; Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, 63, who starved war prisoners in the Dutch East Indies; Gen. Heitaro Kimura, 59; Gen. Iwane Matsui, 70, who directed the rape of Nanking, and Lt. Gen. Akira Muto, 56, responsible for the rape of Manila.

Central figure in the Sugamo prison drama was bald, hatchet-faced Tojo, the 64-year-old virtual war dictator of Japan, who took over the reins of the power-drunk nation two months before the Pearl Harbor sneak attack.

TOJO'S ORDER

It was Tojo who gave the order that sent 150 Japanese planes and seven midget submarines against the Hawaiian Islands on Dec. 7, 1941, in a surprise raid which caused the deaths of more than 3,000 Americans and crippled the American Navy for many months.

At the time of the attack, two Japanese emissaries were talking peace in Washington.

Tojo drove the Japanese war machine from October, 1941, to July, 1944, relinquishing the premiership only after it became obvious the war was lost.

Tojo shot himself below the heart in an attempt to commit suicide on Sept. 11, 1945. But he was saved by American Army surgeons and lived to become the only one of the three Axis dictators to be tried for crimes against humanity.

Who was the first to die and the order in which they went were not indicated. It also was possible several were hanged at once because the executions went off fast.

The hangings were finished by 35 minutes after midnight.

Daniels Keeps Alive Faint Clemency Hope

The Ohio Pardon and Parole commission is expected to determine before Christmas whether to recommend clemency for Robert Murl Daniels, convicted slayer of the three members of the Niebel family. A "routine" clemency hearing was held yesterday afternoon in Columbus.

After the hearing, Chairman Raymond Younger said the commission may have its recommendations in Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's hands before Christmas. Herbert has the power to stay the execution for further investigation of the case. As a usual rule, he follows the commission recommendations.

Daniels, 25, of Columbus, is scheduled to die in Ohio penitentiary's electric chair Jan. 3 for the cornfield slaying of John Niebel, 54, Mansfield reformatory farm superintendent; Mrs. Niebel and their daughter, Phyllis, 21.

During his trial in Mansfield Daniels blamed his partner, John C. West of Parkersburg, W. Va., for the three other murders attributed to the pair. West was slain and Daniels captured at a police road block near Van Wert.

The youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Daniels, and sister, Mrs. Lillian Sims of Obetz, pleaded for Daniels' life at the hearing.

CITE 'MENTAL DISORDERS'

Daniels' parents told the commission he was suffering from a mental disorder that made him incapable of deliberately planning and carrying out murder. Mrs. Daniels, who twice broke down and cried, said her son was hospitalized four times when he was 14 or 15 years old because of head injuries suffered a few years earlier when hit by a truck.

The testimony of the parents was a carbon copy of their statements during the trial last September at Mansfield, the Associated Press said.

Theodore Lutz, Richland county prosecutor who directed the state's case against Daniels, told the commission Daniels was "the brains" of the murder duo. (The parents claimed West "led" their son.) Lutz said Daniels confessed taking part in the slayings and did not deviate on any basic point from his reconstruction of the pair's 14-day crime spree.

The sister, Mrs. Sims, charged that Daniels was served beer while in the Richland county jail at Mansfield and was drunk when she visited him.

"I categorically deny that ever happened," Lutz replied.

"I'm beginning to think there's no justice in the world except for millionaires," said Mrs. Sims.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson, when told of the report from Columbus today, stated emphatically that Daniels was never given beer by himself or the deputies.

"I can say absolutely and definitely," Robinson said, "that he received no beer from the deputies or myself." The sheriff said he would also call in the special guards who had stood a special guard over Daniels for further investigation of Mrs. Sims' statement.

Daniels has made no move to appeal his death sentence in Richland county common pleas court. He was defended by a court-appointed attorney, Lydon H. Beam. Beam's motion for a new trial was denied. If there is an appeal, Daniels and his family would have to pay attorney fees and similar items. After his trial, Daniels said he did not want to put his family to the expense.

Foul Play Hinted In Death Leap

Complete Probe Asked By Welles

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mystery surrounding the death of Laurence Duggan deepened today.

The suggestion that "foul play" had figured in the former state department expert's fatal 16-story plunge from his Manhattan office was raised yesterday by Rep. Karl Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee.

This was reportedly followed by a message from Sumner Welles, former under-secretary of state, asking New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer to order a thorough police probe of the death. O'Dwyer was understood to have agreed.

Welles said he was convinced Duggan had not committed suicide. He said a recent letter from Duggan backed up this belief, but he did not give details.

Mundt had said there was "more than a slight possibility of foul play" that might "lead directly to the communist espionage conspirators." Later, he said, he had no evidence of his own to support his suspicions.

Yesterday afternoon ex-communist courier Whittaker Chambers, who purportedly once accused Duggan of giving him confidential government papers, denied he ever made such an accusation.

The FBI disclosed that 10 days ago it questioned Duggan, but added, without elaborating, that the questioning was merely "routine."

Welles and two other former high ranking state department officials yesterday strongly defended Duggan's record of 14 years service in the state department.

So far, police records have listed the 43-year-old Duggan as having either jumped or fallen to his death Monday night from the office of the Institute of International Education, of which he was president. Police said there were no indications of a struggle.

Beauty Found Dead on Couch

NEW YORK — (UP) — An autopsy was ordered today to determine what caused the death of Beatrice Smith, a pretty 22-year-old blond writer, whose body was found on a couch in the Fifth avenue apartment of a prominent woman psychiatrist.

An empty bottle of sedative and a fully loaded .25 caliber automatic pistol were found under a pillow on the couch. The girl's body was clad only in a robe.

On a desk nearby police found a note on blue paper which said: "I can't finish the book. I can't see."

North China Doom Seen

Chiang O. K.'s New Cabinet

NANKING — (AP) — Chiang Kai-Shek gave the go ahead today to a new cabinet committed to an "honorable peace." But prospects for peace in China are dim.

Communist armies to the north rambled toward the Yangtze. Chiang's troops were in Southward retreat. All of North China and the area of east central China north of the Yangtze appeared doomed. Jumpy Nanking residents fretted.

In this dark picture, Chiang approved a cabinet slected by premier Sun Fo. The fact the cabinet was approved by Chiang was significant. Observers felt Chiang showed by this act that he was still boss of the Nationalist governemnt and was not about to quit.

Faces Grand Jury

LOUISVILLE —(UP)— James Arthur Marlowe, Windham, O., resident who left one wife and five children to marry again, faced grand jury action on bigamy charges here today.

'Rustlers' Bound Over

Three Sanduskians Put Under Bond

ASHLAND — Two of the three Sandusky residents, involved in the Monday night "Christmas tree rustling" from a farm near Loudonville, awaited grand jury action today in Ashland county jail after each was placed under $2,000 bond on grand larceny charges.

Charged were Walter Rachel, 29, and Thomas Moore, 41. Their companion, also of Sandusky, was released after he convinced officials he was hired by Rachel and Moore without knowledge that a theft was involved.

All three were apprehended Monday night by Mansfield police in a North Main street grill near the Erie railroad. Their arrest came an hour after the three were reported speeding toward Mansfield in a truck, loaded with trees, freshly cut from the farm.

It was believed between 80 and 90 trees had been cut from a hillside, planted in pine trees to stem soil erosion. Several of the trees, Ashland authorities said, were lost on the highway as they slid off the speeding truck.

Meanwhile, two Mansfield area youths, charged with grand larceny in the theft of two truck loads of scrap iron from the farm of Merle Swope, north of Savannah, were to be heard by Justice of the Peace Harry Pifer today.

Paul Conley, 25, of Shelby, and Donald Jones, 18, of Greenwich, were arrested yesterday by Sheriff H. R. Myers after a widespread chase led to their respective home towns.

Sheriff Myers arrested Jones at his home in Greenwich and Con-

Farmer, 75, Pinned Under Tree 2 Hours

Nelson H. Banks, 75, well-known farmer near Little Washington, is in General hospital today suffering from a broken right leg, sustained yesterday afternoon in the woods near his home.

Banks was cutting up a tree with a cross-cut saw when a limb of the tree fell across his right leg, pinning him to the ground. He was a mile and a half from the house and no one heard him call, members of the family said.

He lay in the woods for more than two hours before his daughter, Mrs. Irene Holmes, who lives with her father, became anxious and called neighbors. They started out with flashlights and found Banks, almost unconscious, in the woods.

Banks is suffering as much from shock and the effects of the cold as from the fractured leg, his daughter said. Hospital officials reported his condition as "fair."

Suspect Wounded

COLUMBUS —(INS)— A Columbus detective shot and wounded a holdup suspect last night when the man broke and ran while being questioned on the street. William Hampton, 27, was treated at St. Francis hospital for a lacerated scalp before being taken to city prison for investigation of armed robbery.

Seeks Mayer As Assistant

Harold Lutz, who will take office as Richland county's prosecutor on Jan. 3, announced today he will recommend to the county Democratic committee for its approval, the appointment of Attorney James J. Mayer, of Shelby, as an assistant prosecutor.

Ralph Lutz, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, said a meeting would be called for either Tuesday or Thursday night next week to go over recommendations and make endorsements of applicants for county jobs.

He added the endorsements would be for the jobs in the sheriff's, commissioners' and prosecutor's offices and that endorsements for state jobs in the county would not be forthcoming until later.

Statler Urges Rowland Overpass, or Tunnel

A concrete or steel overpass at an estimated cost of $600,000 would be the best type of protected vehicular crossing of the Erie and Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks from North Lake park to the north side of the city, W. C. Statler, city engineer, revealed today.

His opinion was contained in a written report requested by city council on the several possibilities for providing a safe crossing of the railroad tracks and a link between the north and west sides of the city.

At present there is no protected crossing of any type between Bowman street and Trimble road, a distance of a mile and a half.

Statler ruled out the possibility of a vehicular underpass, explaining that "a (vehicular) underpass at the B. & O. crossing would place the floor below the flood stage of Touby's Run and under the Erie railroad." A 21-foot clearance is necessary.

"A pedestrian underpass," Statler wrote, "would be practical, as it does not need the same clearance required by the vehicular type." It would cost an estimated $30,000, he said.

The report declared that a connection between Howard street and Rowland avenue would be the most desirable because "it has the best outlet to the north as Howard street is a public street to the north corporation line.

"And Rowland avenue has the best south connection of city streets as it is connected to the south to the city limits via Sherman and Marion avenues and also via Bartley avenue."

Statler added that the location is the best from a topographical point of view and that the park property to the west of Rowland avenue was dedicated solely for park purposes, but the land in the immediate vicinity of Rowland avenue was dedicated for street and park purposes.

Stating that an elevated highway with overpass structure was the most desirable, the city engineer wrote that a concrete bridge was the best type.

He explained that steel structure migh have a slightly lower initial cost, but that maintenance costs would be higher.

The vehicular overpass would be 800 feet long, extending from Rowland avenue to Howard street.

To finance a vehicular overpass, council would have to go to the voters and request a bond issue, as it could not lay out the money from current revenues.

The pedestrian underpass, however, probably could be financed from funds now available.

Agitation for a protected crossing has been going on for more than 25 years. It was recently spotlighted by The News-Journal and interested northside residents who complained that students going to and from Senior high school had to cross the unprotected tracks at the point of the proposed overpass, or detour as much as three-quarters of a mile out of their way.

Death Nearing For Youngster

TOLEDO —(AP)— Two childish cards, scrawled in crayon and saying "A Merry Christmas to You," hang by the bed of nine-year-old Freddy Liszi.

Freddy doesn't know it, of course, but doctors say he hasn't much of a chance to live till Christmas. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Liszi sr., is doomed by a cancer which has spread to his arms, spine, temple, legs and one lung.

Young Freddy drew the cards and helped hang them after Santa Claus came to see him last Saturday. Santa left a toy pistol and a football.

Freddy said last night he could hardly wait for warmer weather so he could "hunt" bullfrogs with the pistol and kick the football around.

Flying Diapers Come to Rescue

ATLANTA —(AP)— Priority air shipment: 200 dozen baby diapers.

The 2,400 squares of cloth were flown from Atlanta to Birmingham yesterday to cover an emergency.

The Lullaby Diaper service in Birmingham burned over the weekend. Many youngsters were in a dilemma—no pants.

Lullaby's Atlanta branch jumped to bridge the britches breach.

The air shipments will continue said the Atlanta manager, as long as necessary.

State Takes Bids On Road Jobs

Low Bidders Listed On Four Projects

Two counties in the Mansfield area, Crawford and Holmes will benefit from three road projects on which bids were received yesterday by the State Highway department. Bids were opened in Columbus on projects totaling $9,000,000.

The Purdy Construction company, of Mansfield, was low bidder on a Licking county road project.

The Purdy firm submitted a bid of $253,674 to grade, drain and pave 1.154 miles of U. S. Route 62 in Burlington and Washington townships in Licking county. The original estiwate was for $279,700.

The Ohio Road Improvement company of Columbus submitted the low bids on two Crawford county projects.

One is to widen and resurface 1.270 miles of State Route 4 in Bucyrus township, the low bid was $33,797. The original estimate was $33,960.

The other Crawford county project is to grade, drain, pave, widen and resurface 10.048 miles of U. S. Route 30 N and build continuous slab bridges over Rock Run and Indian Run and widen the roadway of an existing steel beam bridge over Broken Sword creek in Tod, Crane and Eden townships. The bid was $961,156 and the original estimate was $965,500.

Holmes and Stark counties share in a $79,748 project on which Edgar Spring, Inc., of New Philadelphia was low bidder. It calls for widening and resurfacing of 5.124 miles of U. S. Route 62 in Paint and Sugar Creek townships.

Casting For Little Theater Production Nearly Completed

Rehearsals for the Little Theater's second production of the year, "A Murder Has been Arranged" are expected to start immediately after the holidays, Earl Heasley, director, announced.

Try-outs have been held in the common pleas court room and casting is about completed, Heasley said.

"A Murder Has Been Arranged" will be presented in John Simpson auditorium the latter part of February.

In the meantime, members of the Little Theater board, headed by William G. Schultz, have made plans to take over the abandoned Maple Grove school off the South Diamond street road, for a stage set location. There, under the direction of Sheldon Clark, sets will be built for the organization's plays and some of the rehearsals.

Prior to the presentation of the second play, a meeting will be held with William Craig, professor of dramatics at the College of Wooster, for a make-up demonstration here.

Mrs. Sheldon Clark is in charge of this meeting. It is expected to be held at the Minnick Beauty school, 78½ North Diamond street, at 7:30 p. m., Jan. 5.

Since the capacity of the room is limited to 35, Mrs. Clark asks that anyone outside the Little Theater group interested should contact her immediately at 2549-9.

Souvenir Hunters Worrisome To Hotel Men, Speaker Says

The harrowing situations hotel men have to cope with were described by Capt. H. Mowrey, secretary of the Ohio Hotel association at the Rotary club's weekly meeting yesterday. He talked at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Mowrey told the Rotarians a number of stories about hotels and their relations with some of their less gracious guests. He spoke of the big nuisance value of so-called souvenir hunters. In his expreience, Mowrey said, some guests have gone so far as to steal a mattress from a hotel room.

Another headache the hotel manager has to contend with is bad checks, the secretary related. Despite vigilance of hotel clerks, all hotels get stuck with cleverly-faked checks, he said. He produced samples of bad checks which had been passed to hotels.

In explaining the functions of the hotel association, Mowrey said one of its chief purposes is to fight "unfriendly" legislation. The association also serves as a public relations bureau for Ohio hotels.

The speaker was introduced by Joseph Wright, manager of the Mansfield-Leland.

Body Discovered

SANDUSKY — (AP) — The body of Clarence J. Hess, 55, missing from his home here since Nov. 14, was found on the Sandusky Bay shore near Medusa yesterday. Acting Coroner Harrison Pratt said the death was accidental.

2 Bowlers Make Maple Honor Roll

George Percy and Robert Treisch shared the bowling spotlight last night as they were the only keglers to rack up honor roll scores.

Treisch got his 192-223-190—605 score while rolling in the Eagles league and Percy tacked up 625 in the Transportation loop with Motor Cargo. Percy fired scores of 219, 212 and 194 to lead his team to a three-game sweep over Mansfield Upholstering. Motor Cargo moved within one game of the first place for which Geiger Distributing and Schmid's Tire are tied. Schmid's Tire won two of three games while Geiger's dropped two of three.

Richard Snavely of Schmid's was runnerup with a 209 single game and 564 series. Paul Kurtz knocked out a 233 final game and 553 series, followed by Shannon Forsythe, 211 and 550.. Robert Forsythe had 543, Harry Swimley, 528, and A. Karbula, 525.

Following Treisch in the Elks circuit were Don Dancer, 564; Bob Bieri, 557; Cecil Rupp, 550; Leo Yuncker, 549; Willard Ruhl, 546, and P. Herlihy, 544.

★

A 541 by Alvin Eitelgeorge was good enough to lead the Richland C league. F. Black turned in a 517 for the only other league score above the 500 mark. Lou Fanello just missed the 500 mark with a 498 series. Richland Aviation and Mansfield Rug both swept three games.

★

Chuck McMullen had two 200 games as he fired a 582 for top honors in the 24-team Mansfield Tire circuit. McMullen led off with a 201, slipped to 170 and finished up with a 211. Frank Stransky was second with a consistent 173-194-182—549 and Barney Mahoney sr. had 155-199-194—549.

Other top scores were: Larry Siwek, 545; Joe Kasper, 539; L. Rissler, 538, and Joe Siwek. Kasper had a 213 while Barney Campbell came in with a 211 to follow Harold Stockwell's 227 in the single game department.

Brooklyn's Grid Dodgers May Go Out of Business

NEW YORK, — (INS) — Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, reportedly has been ordered by other co-owners of the baseball and football clubs to get rid of his football interests immediately.

This news came today from a source close to the dodger baseball operations and the import of the situation can be summed up by the alleged demand that Rickey either drop football or sell his interests in the Dodgers.

His fellow-owners in the Dodger operations are said to have pointed out to Rickey that money can be made with baseball in Brooklyn, but that no further proof of professional football's failure there is needed than a glance at last season's books.

The amount dropped on Rickey's venture into the all-America conference is estimated at between $300,000 and $350,000.

As a result of this Brooklyn rhubard the all-America conference will be forced to realign its clubs for the forthcoming season. The Dodgers definitely will not be a part of the circuit but may windup in some sort of consolidation with the New York Yankees.

Ohio U. Coach Resigns Post

ATHENS —(AP)— Ohio University was in the market for a new head football coach today. Harold E. Wise, whose teams won only six games in two seasons, resigned last night, effective Jan. 1.

Athletic Director Don Peden said no one has been considered for the vacancy.

Wise, who joined the Ohio U. athletic staff 10 years ago, took over the football coaching job from Peden in 1947 His first team won three, lost five and tied one. This fall the Bobcats won three and lost six.

Black To Leave Charity Hospital

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Don Black will be home for Christmas.

The Cleveland Indians' hurler, confined to Charity hospital the past three weeks following a brain operation, will be permitted to leave the hospital tomorrow

The surgery was performed to remove a weak spot in an artery in Black's brain The weak spot caused the Tribe right-hander to suffer a cerebral hemorrhage while at bat during a September game with the St Louis Browns.

Tip-In Men Show Way In Buckeye Basketball Tilts

Towering tip-in men showed the way last night (Tuesday) as Ohio State beat California, 74-60; Bowling Green blasted South Carolina, 83-54. And Nebraska nicked Western Reserve, 83-80, in college basketball games.

The intersectional matches were the only one involving Ohio quintets.

Margin (Buzz) Whitehead, Nebraska's six-foot nine-inch center, dumped in 27 points against Reserve. Dick Schnittker, Ohio's six-foot five-inch forward, contributed 23 against California and Bowling Green's alternating pivotmen — six-foot 11-inch Charley Share and six-foot seven Mac Otten—tossed in 31 between them against North Carolina.

Ohio State, which takes on California again tonight at Berkeley, jumped to a 13-0 lead on some sharpshooting by forward Bob Donham—and that was the ball game. Donham shared game honors with Schnittker, each bagging 23 points. State led, 40-35 at halftime.

Pacific Coast 5's Dominate Games With Outsiders

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Midway in a week which sees them assailed from every quarter, Pacific Coast college basketball teams today appeared to be emerging on top in their battles against invading power teams from the east and midwest.

Of six major clashes so far this week, the coasters have won four games and the invaders only two.

In perhaps the most impressive performance of the six games, the unbeaten Stanford Indians drubbed Yale at San Francisco's Cow Palace last night, 78 to 62. It was the eighth straight win for the tribe and broke the Palace scoring record of 74 held by Arkansas.

The west reached a pinnacle of efficiency in a twin bill in Los Angeles as two highly-rated Big Nine teams went down to defeat. UCLA's unbeaten Bruins racked up their sixth straight by edging Northwestern, 49 to 44, while Southern California rocked Wisconsin, 36 to 31.

The midwest gained some consolation from Michigan's 53 to 37 win over Santa Clara after losing to Stanford Monday, and Ohio State's 74 to 60 rout of California.

Gump's Stay In Loop Lead

SHELBY. — The Gump's quintet maintained their lead in the city basketball league with a 68-to-24 victory over the Legion team last night at the Shelby High School gym.

"Legs" Vanderbilt took the honors for the evening scoring 26 points. Two more than the entire legion outfit. Joe Miller of the Legion team gave a beautiful exhibition of all around play to lead his team with 10 points.

Other games played gave the Ohio Seamless Tube a 37-to-26 victory over the bottom place Bing's basketeers. The Bing's five outplayed the Tuby but blew up in the last quarter to give them a win.

The Shelby Merchants defeated the Salesbook by a score of 36 to 25 with Bill Falter taking scoring honors with 14 points.

Whisler Banquet

WILLARD—AP)—Ohio State's star fullback, Joe Whisler, will be honored here—his hometown—Jan. 28 with an appreciation banquet. The dinner will be given by the Willard Elks lodge, and Wesley Fesler, Ohio State coach, will be the principal speaker.

Syracuse's basketball team of 1925-26 which won 19 of their 20 contests, was generally regarded as national champions.

Steubenville Gets Harness Meeting

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—A 19-day harness meet at Steubenville, Ohio, will be started on May 21 under the direction of Alexis Thompson, owner of the National football league champion Philadelphia Eagles, and Irvin Fried, auto racing promoter.

Fried, in making the announcement yesterday, said he and Thompson will operate as the Ft. Steuben Raceway corporation.

RESOLUTION 48-369

By Mr. Knarr.

Declaring intention to appropriate property for a right-of-way to construct, repair, maintain, operate and inspect a waterline together with necessary signal and telephone cables across the lands owned by William S. Volz and Mary M. Volz, as hereinafter described, and declaring an emergency.

WHEREAS, Council, by Ordinance No. 48-274, passed September 7, 1948, declared its intention to appropriate property for an easement, the description of which has been redrafted and surveyed.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MANSFIELD, STATE OF OHIO

Section 1. That Council hereby declares its intention to appropriate property for a right-of-way to construct, repair, maintain, operate and inspect a water line together with necessary signal and telephone cables according to the new survey across the lands owned by William S. Volz and Mary M. Volz.

Section 2. That the said water lines, signal and telephone cables shall be constructed in a right-of-way whose approximate center line is described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the south side of the road leading leading to the Troy Meeting House, said point being S. 73¼° W. 46.4 ft. from the intersection of the south side of said road and the east line of the Southwest Quarter of Section 11; thence S. 83° 1' E 52.6 ft. to a point; thence N. 87° 48' E. 1327.9 ft. to a point, thence N. 68° 6' E. 5.3 ft. to a point in the east line of the above described tract, said point being 484.7 ft. Southerly from the center line of the County Road.

The width of a permanent easement is 33 ft. (16 5 ft. on either side of the above described center line). In addition a temporary easement for use during construction shall be 200 ft. in width (100 ft. on either side of the above described center line.)

Section 3. That this Resolution be and hereby is declared an emergency measure for the immediate preservation of the public safety and general welfare of the City of Mansfield and its inhabitants and as such the same shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.

Passed Dec. 16th, 1948.

(Signed) PAUL W. BUSH,
President of Council
(Approved) ROY W. VAUGHN,
Mayor
Attest: CHARLES J. STECKER,
Clerk of Council.
(Dec. 22, 29—U-J '48)

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Seek Farmer In Shotgun Slaying of Sheriff, Baby, 2 Women

Posse Combs Woods After Kill Spree

Family Trouble Seen as Motive

LUCEDALE, Miss. — (U.P.)—An angry posse searched wooded areas near here today for Murdock Hinton, 48-year-old farmer missing since his ex-wife, daughter, infant granddaughter anda county sheriff were slain by shotgun blasts at the Hinton home last night.

State troopers from Mississippi and Alabama brought bloodhounds and joined in the hunt. They believed Hinton, afoot and armed with a shotgun and a fresh supply of shells, was hiding in nearby woods.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Hinton, about 43; her daughter, Gloria Hinton, 18; Gloria's two-month-old baby, Judy Hinton; and Georgia County Sheriff J. Nelson, about 40.

Justice of Peace J. H. Havard held an inquest last night soon after the bodies were found. The jury returned a verdict of death "by some unknown hand" in the slayings. Havard immediately appointd Malcolm D. Gavin "temporary sheriff" to direct the search for the killer.

The inquest brought out that Hinton and his wife were divorced recently. It also found that Hinton had fled in the sheriff's car and wrecked it about 11 miles from here.

State troopers said they learned that Hinton had stopped once to buy a box of shotgun shells before leaving town.

No motive for the killings was definitely established, but it was believed they originated from "family trouble." Townspeople said Gloria Hinton was unmarried and it was reported that the row began over her two-months-old baby.

Three of the bodies were found at the Hinton home. Mrs. Hinton and the baby lay dead from gunshot wounds, inside the house, when officers arrived.

Sheriff Nelson's body was found outside the house, near the porch. Both Nelson and Mrs. Hinton appeared to have been shot four times each from relatively close range.

The body of Gloria Hinton was found a short time later in the sheriff's wrecked car, 11 miles northwest of here. At first it was believed she died from a broken neck received when the car was wrecked, but further examination showed that she. too, was killed by a shotgun blast.

Police Cite Sex Orgies

INDIANAPOLIS —(AP)— Federal and local authorities today sought an unkown narcotics peddler suspected of furnishing marijuana to 18 persons, most of them young people, arrested in raids on wild sex parties.

Meanwhile, vice and narcotics squards were poised for more raids against houses suspected as sites of sex and dope orgies.

Fifteen persons, including two teen-aged girls, were arrested on vagrancy charges in a raid Sunday night at a house where an allnight party was in progress.

Sgt. Harold Morton, who was assigned to full-time duty investigating the city's marijuana problem, said no drugs were found in the house but "the air was blue with marijuana smoke."

"Police have knowledge that sex orgies have been going on in this spot," he said.

ley in Shelby after Conley had ditched his truck in an effort to escape the pursuing sheriff in a city park. According to Sheriff Myers, Conley stated he already had sold one load of the iron in Mansfield and was turning into the drive at his home on Second street in Shelby when he saw the waiting sheriff. Myers said Conley raced the truck to the park, where he was apprehended.

'Anti-Sin' Brothers Enroll at Dayton

DAYTON — (U.P.) — John and Chester De Mint, Chillicothe, O., brothers who refused to attend high school gym classes because boxing was "sinful," enrolled at Kiser high school here today.

The brothers said they chose Kiser because they can select their own gym clothing and attend athletic classes which do not teach "worldly" sports

Ideal Union Election Plea Stalled

IBEW Says 'No Action Before June'

Petitions for an election among the Ideal Electric Manufacturing company's 278 employes to determine whether they want to be represented by the United Electrical Workers (CIO) or an AFL union, will not be filed with the NLRB until June, at the earliest, it was learned today.

Samuel Dinkel, business manager of the local branch of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, said that there "would be no use in filing such a petition" while there is a contract between Ideal Electrical and UE. The present contract does not expire until June.

Asked whether the petition would be filed then, he said that he "could answer that now."

Dinkel's statement contradicts a previous statement made last month by Roy Burns, ousted UE shop steward at Ideal that petitions were filed with the NLRB. Burns was the group's spokesman.

The alleged "fight" between the Ideal Electric workers and Local 758, UE began last month when a split developed over the issue of communists holding union office.

According to Burns, who claims that a majority of the Ideal employes have signed cards stating their intention to disaffiliate with Local 758 and join the IBEW, the inability of plant's employes to have a constitutional amendment approved which would ban communists from holding office in the union caused the break.

Prior to the split, Local 711, UE, (Westinghouse) approved a similar amendment. The action by the Ideal employes was not connected with Local 711 action, but was motivated by the same desire to rid the union of communists, Tom Harrington, another spokesman for the group said.

Both Locals 711 and 758 denounced the affair as "raiding" by the AFL.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — A new inside finish for incandescent lamps was announced here today by General Electric's lamp department.

Air Force Prepares For One More Rescue Attempt

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The air force was ready today for its last glider-rescue attempt to snatch 11 stranded American fliers from a Greenland icecap.

An air force spokesman here said that if the maneuver fails, the rescuers then will try to land on the 7,000-foot icecap with a ski-equipped C-47 transport plane.

The rescue team decided to make a fourth try with the glider on the basis of reports that more favorable weather was in prospect. Poor flying conditions have blocked rescue efforts since Saturday.

The first two attempts to snatch the glider off the icecap failed when they tiny craft's wheels broke through the ice crust.

The third attempt was thwarted by a broken tow line after the rescue plane had lifted the glider some 50 feet into the air.

The air force spokesman said that if a ski-equipped plane is used, it will be outfitted with rockets to help in the takeoff. He said the air force would do everything possible to rescue the men by Christmas.

REJECT NEW LAKE

Claim Longer Life For Tires Manufactured of 'Cold Rubber'

One of eight tire plants that pioneered in the development of "cold rubber," the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company today announced results of tests made on tires constructed of the new type rubber.

The material is called "cold rubber" because, according to technicians, in the process of manufacturing it, the material is actually refrigerated instead of being heated to 122 degree temperature required by processes for making other manmade rubbers. It is refrigerated to 41 degrees.

Throughout the spring and summer months, tire test fleets have been subjecting cold-rubber tires to rugged tests and the results have proven that tires with cold rubbertreads give 20 to 30 per cent more mileage, officials here said.

The new rubber is superior to natural rubber because, in the words of technicians, "cold rubber is more like rubber than rubber itself," since the rubber molecules are more closely knit. As an example, technicians compare the close knit weave of a silk tapestry with the looser knit of a fish net. The closer knit molecules of cold rubber make it far stronger and tougher than natural rubber, they claim.

The major chemicals in cold rubber (styrene and butadiene) are the same as in other manmade rubber, but the conversion of these materials under refrigeration, combined with more powerful chemicals, is reported to give the resulting cold rubber stronger and more rugged properties.

Production was started last February by Mansfield Tire and seven other manufacturers at the Copolymer plant in Baton Rouge, La. G. W. Stephens, president of the Mansfield company, is vice president of the Copolymer corporation.

Development of the new rubber was heralded as an outstanding achievement, but it still posed a problem for tire manufacturers. It left them the job of perfecting a method of compounding and processing so that cold rubber could be blended into tire production.

This was accomplished by Mansfield tire technicians. Tires made of cold rubber have been coming off the production lines of the Mansfield company for several months.

COLD RUBBER TREAD—At this tire building machine the operator applies a tread of cold rubber. This is one of the final steps in making a tire. When taken off the drum in front of the operator, the tire will then be ready for shaping and vulcanizing.

Cub Pack 2 Initiates 5 Members

Five boys were initiated into Cub pack No. 2 at a meeting at the Central Methodist church Tuesday night. Woodrow Wilson, cubmaster, was in charge.

The new members include James Walker, Tom Hartman, Robert Cunningham, Robert Herlihy, and Timothy Stevens.

Following the business meeting, a Christmas party was held. More than 100 boys and parents joined in the singing of Christmas carols.

Two boys presented a program of magic tricks and ventriloquism.

Each Cub brought a repaired toy, a good used toy or a new toy which was gift wrapped and placed under the Christmas tree.

After the program Lt. Major R. L. Gutterman of the Volunteers of America, accepted the approximately 100 toys from the boys for less fortunate children and spoke briefly to the group.

Kids at Boys' Village Well Pleased With Summer's Crop

MILFORD, Conn. —(AP)— The boys at Boys Village, are feeling "pretty big" these days.

They not only raised enough garden truck last summer to whack about $200 a month from their food bill, but they canned nearly 1,000 jars of fruits and vegetables.

And, further, they've got close to 400 pounds of fresh vegetables and "we don't know how much" pork, beef and lamb in their deep freeze unit.

"Better than all that, though," says the Rev. Baxter Howell, executive secretary of the home, "is the proud feeling the boys have from the knowledge that they produced it themselves."

Boys Village is an 82-acre farm with a big rambling farm house which offers haven to youngsters from six to 12 years who might not find it elsewhere.

It is operated by the Rev. and Mrs. Howell under the direction of a group of Connecticut business men.

The boyish appearing clergyman is a farm product, as is his wife, and he said, "This, of course, has helped a lot."

The Boys Village "family," he explains, "is made up of youngsters who are hardship cases, not juvenile delinquents."

"We are non-sectarian," he said, "and as 'non-institutional' as it is possible to make us. The boys are treated as individuals and allowed to develop as such. They attend the local schools, go to the churches of their faith, have their own hobbies and personal interests as any boy does in his own home. It is just that they haven't regular homes of their own."

Rev. Howell said that "all of us feel pretty big" about the self-help performed last summer by the boys.

"It has done a lot to make the village debt-free this year for the sixth time in its six years of existence," he beamed.

Indonesia Reflects Trend In the Orient

THE FIGHT IS ON in Indonesia, but understanding what it is all about is much more of a problem than just reading of troop strength, cities captured, advances or retreats. The Dutch empire is crumbling just as the British empire has already largely fallen apart.

Methodical as usual, the Dutch have seen this coming. They have prepared an elaborate plan to meet it. They hope to build up a commonwealth of nations to replace their old empire.

Resisting this move is the so-called Republic of Indonesia, which claims to represent the rich islands of Java, Sumatra, and Madoera. For months an uneasy truce has existed between the Republic and the Dutch. Both sides obviously felt the issue must be settled bluntly.

The Dutch charged that the republicans were infiltrating new areas and planning warfare after Jan. 1, so they jumped the gun. A United Nations commission had been attempting to keep the lid on the situation; it failed. The Dutch curtly told the U. N. to mind its own business and invaded the republican area.

It would be easy to say that a world peace organization doesn't amount to much if the powerful nations of the world cannot agree to stop a minor fracas like this—by force if necessary. Yet it is not so simple to alter the course of forces that have been building up for generations. For the Dutch, their empire is a necessary source of livelihood. For the Indonesians, the Dutch are white slave-masters even though their rule has been liberal.

Meanwhile, the communists sit, gloating and watchful, waiting to pounce upon what wreckage may be left, to form a new empire of their own.

It therefore obviously becomes the duty of peace-loving elements of the U.N. to make every effort at arbitration, even to threaten and cajole in seeking a rational settlement. And it behooves every nation with an interest in the Pacific and the Orient to be more alert than the communists, to define their own policies clearly and act strongly to maintain the freedom of the peoples involved.

That Flood of Commemorative Stamps

UP UNTIL this year a commemorative postage stamp was something of a novelty, issued infrequently to honor some outstanding character in American history or to center attention on a memorable anniversary.

These commemorative issues were appreciated by users and prized by collectors, sometimes even attaining considerable value because of their rarity.

This year, however, there has been such a flood of commemorative 3-cent stamps as to make the whole thing ridiculous, in addition to adding to the work of postal clerks in handling the various special issues—which total 29 for the year.

And here's how it happened, as explained in a letter from the post office department in Washington: "Until this year the Congress has manifested little or no interest in the provision of commemorative stamps, leaving this entirely to the discretion of the postmaster general, a duty assigned to him under the statutes. At least half of the commemorative stamps provided this year were made mandatory by Congress over the postmaster general's protest."

So there you have it—and while the 80th Congress may have done too little about some things it certainly did too much in messing up the issuance of commemorative stamps.

Arrest Is Not Proof of Guilt

THERE'S ALWAYS a feeling of shock associated with revelation of dishonesty by someone we know—a bank employe, a public official, or anyone who has been in a position of trust, or in whom confidence has been reposed.

It was a natural reaction, therefore, in the neighboring village of Crestline, that residents were much disturbed over the arrest in Columbus of a Crestline young woman on the charge of securing merchandise by forging names to charge accounts of customers.

While arrests should not be mistaken for proof or guilt, information from Columbus is to the effect that a considerable quantity of merchandise claimed to have been thus secured was found by police in the girl's apartment.

It is noted that at her arraignment in municipal court in Columbus yesterday, the accused girl pleaded innocent, and the case was continued to Jan. 4, with bond placed at $1,000. She must therefore be regarded as innocent, unless evidence proves otherwise.

Third Party Movement Flopped Again

IT HAS BECOME quite apparent that Henry Wallace did not succeed in starting a third party, as he hoped to do. Complete returns, official in all but six states, show that the Thurmond-Wright States' Rights ticket won third place in the popular balloting with 1,169,240 votes. Wallace was fourth with 1,148,797. This was despite the fact that Wallace was on the ballot in all but three states, while Thurmond was not listed outside the South.

If the Dixiecrats are sectional, the Wallaceites are local. Almost half of Wallace's vote, 509,000, came from New York, and the bulk of that was from New York City.

One seeker of medical advice writes: "I am 68 years old and have never had a headache in all my life. Can you tell me why?"—Probably because he doesn't pay any attention to little things like taxes, high prices and conditions in Europe.

Harry Wade suggests that, in fairness to the other side, the AMA ought to disown any rumor that under socialized medicine all pills would be pink.

Of course every boy has a chance to become president—look at some who did.

Action In Indonesia Won't Cure Trouble

THE DUTCH action against the Indonesian republic is creating another dangerous crisis in an Orient already seething with unrest.

Asiatic peoples are bound to construe this as a further demonstration of the western imperialiasm against which many of them are in revolt. We have striking evidence of this interpretation in a statement by Pandit Jawaharlal, Nehru, prime minister of India.

Nehru told the Indian National Congress party that Dutch military victories never will stop the Indonesian struggle for independence.

He was applauded when he declared that no European power has any right to wage an aggressive action in Asia. And he added that India's freedom from British rule means the end of all imperialism and colonialism in the Orient.

That is the view of one of the most powerful leaders of India's 300,000,000 newly freed people. And it would be difficult to combat the thesis that imperialism is indeed on its way out in the Far East. Britain tactily recognized this when she granted independence to India, Pakistan and Burma.

However, while the Indonesian development is unfortunate, we shall do well not to be hasty in our judgment It is easy to register our firm belief in the inherent right of any people to full independence.

We must note that the Dutch admit the right of Indonesia to independence but are trying to create a commonwealth of nations of which the Indonesian republic would be a part.

* * *

Basis of Trouble.

BUT WHAT rights, if any, has Holland in this question of independence? Well, in the first place the Netherlands established herself in the East Indies more than three centuries ago Her roots run deep. The Dutch public has made heavy investments in Indonesia through the generations.

So the Netherlands maintains that she is under obligations not only to protect the investments of her public but to safe-guard the interests of all the 75,000,000 natives of the Indonesian archipelago.

That brings us up against the present crisis. There are in the East Indies several governments, of which the republic is one The Dutch aim at creating an interim federal government of all these states pending the development of the commonwealth.

All the governments excepting the republic agreed to this arrangement. The Dutch say the Republic blew first hot and then cold on the proposition, owing to warring elements within the government.

Finally last week-end the Dutch took military "police action" against the republic. They claimed that the republican government had embarked on the preliminaries of large scale hostilities in Java and Sumatra.

Naturally this move by the Dutch has created something akin to consternation in United Nations circles. The U. N. good offices committee has been trying to mediate the dispute between the Netherlands and the Indonesian republic, and a U. S. delegation spokesman in Paris says the American government feels the Dutch have "broken faith" with the committee.

However, the Dutch are going ahead with their program. All high republican leaders are in custody. The Netherlands troops have been cracking down on subversive elements without great opposition.

From a technical standpoint I suppose one would call the operation a success thus far. But the trouble is that while it may eliminate some trouble, it cannot cure. The struggle of the Indonesian republic to have its own way will still go on, especially since there are strong communist elements in it.

This fresh upheaval is before the U. N. security council. Perhaps the U. N. may find a solution—perhaps.

Viewing the National Scene

'Old Guard' Still Active

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—One of those national convention deals which, when they occur, are regarded as practical— if compromising —has come back to haunt the Republican party as it begins to make plans to reorganize itself from its latest defeat.

It may be recalled that, at a strategic point in pre-convention maneuvering, the Joe Grundy faction in Pennsylvania representing entrenched Republican Old Guardism, tossed in a hefty block of delegates to Governor Thomas E. Dewey. The announcement was made by Senator Ed Martin, former governor, who thereupon withdrew his own favorite-son candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

This double-barreled coup, the first executed by Governor Dewey's skillful managers, was the initial break toward the New York governor and had the psychological effect of starting the band-wagon movement that gathered momentum rapidly.

It was bitterly protested by red-headed Governor James H. Duff, who has fought Grundyism in Pennsylvania, and it was, indeed, a strange alliance in fact—though perhaps not in politics—since there was a sharp conflict of view on many issues between Governor Dewey and the stand-pat attitude of Joseph W. Grundy, for so many years the kingpin in the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' association.

Cynics smiled and wondered what the "pay-off" would be. They thought they saw it immediately after the convention when the conservative and personable Rep. Hugh D. Scott, jr., of Philadelphia was named chairman of the Republican national committee at Governor Dewey's behest. It was a distinct surprise. His name had not even been mentioned previously among prospects for the post.

The complimentary nature of the gesture was recognized subsequently, for the real management of Governor Dewey's campaign was entrusted to his close friend and associate, Herbert Brownell, jr. Rep. Scott played an ornamental second fiddle.

* * *

Internal Friction.

BUT NOW the party finds itself stuck with Mr. Scott, unless something approaching a miracle should occur. He insists he is going to remain as chairman, pointing out that he was elected for a four-year term.

Of more potency than his claimed four-year title, however, is the fact that he apparently has lined up enough pledged support in the committee to beat down any revolt at the national committee meeting here in January.

There is revolt in the ranks, all right, particularly from the progressive wing of the party. It does not want to see the necessary job of winning converts and re-establishing the party with the public done under auspices of Old Guard conservatism.

The national chairman is the spokesman for the party between elections, and, furthermore, is the man who keeps his fingers close on the national organization through the antennae of national committeemen from all the states.

What the progressive element, as well as many younger party members, want is somebody who represents a modern viewpoint.

Nothing would be healthier for the party, nor wiser in the long run, than a good revolt here at the January meeting, right out in the open in public view, that would install new figures more representative of a progressive viewpoint.

Otherwise, the party can make a good headstart to other defeats and at a bad time psychologically, for the contrast will be with the victorious Democrats beginning work in Congress on the Truman program that was responsible for the President's re-election.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Talking About GOP Convention In 1949

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Governor Dewey told young Republican leaders at an off-the-record dinner at the University club the other day that he favors calling a special Republican convention in 1949. The purpose would be to settle who will rule the GOP—the conservative Old Guard or the young liberals who want to give the party a new look.

The idea of a special Republican convention was first proposed by the late Wendell Willkie's son, Philip, who has been out pushing the plan with GOP leaders.

So far he has won over California's Governor Earl Warren, Minnesota's ex-Governor Harold Stassen and such Republican senators as George Aiken and Ralph Flanders of Vermont, Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, Wayne Morse of Oregon, Ray Baldwin of Connecticut, Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Charles Tobey of New Hampshire, Alexander Smith of New Jersey and James Kem of Missouri.

Meanwhile, the split between the two GOP factions is growing steadily worse. The Old Guard actually argues that the best strategy is to sit back and wait for a depression; they believe the people then will rally around the GOP standard again.

The liberal faction argues that a depression would drive the people to Henry Wallace, not the GOP, and that the best course is to build a progressive program and take it, Truman-style, to the grass roots.

Both sides have been holding post-mortems on the election, but the first real showdown will come the third week in January when the Republican national committee meets here.

AFL Favors Part of T.H.

THE Taft-Hartley Bill will be one of the most controversial questions before Congress, but President Truman and four A. F. of L. leaders had little trouble agreeing on its repeal provisions when they conferred at the White House recently.

The A. F. L. quartet consisted of President William Green, Secretary-Treasurer George Meaney and Vice Presidents George Harrison and Dan Tracy. They opened the conference by asking how far Truman would go in his labor recommendations to Congress.

"We of labor are hopeful the Democratic-platform pledge for Taft-Hartley repeal and restoration of the Wagner Act will be carried out in full and as quickly as possible," said Green.

"I'm for that," replied Truman. He added that there were some necessary amendments to the new act, however, that he hoped the A. F. L. will support.

"There are three of them," he continued, "and I have spoken of them before. In my message to Congress last January, I urged a ban on jurisdictional strikes, on secondary boycotts and on strikes by irresponsible labor leaders that create a national emergency.

"We must protect the people from strikes in key industries that cripple production in other industries, even if we have to use the courts against the few unscrupulous leaders who cause them," Truman argued, obviously referring to John L. Lewis. "Our economy can't stand it, especially in these times of world unrest. I am sure responsible labor leaders like yourselves will agree."

"The A. F. of L. will accept the three amendments you propose," promised Green. His three colleagues also nodded assent.

"What's more," said Green, "we'll help you put them across, if you need our help. The changes you suggest are reasonable."

Aluminum To Moscow.

REAL FACT about the black marketeering of scarce Marshall Plan metals back to the U. S. A. from England, Holland and Belgium, is that W. B. Griffen of Modern Metals magazine called this to the attention of ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman three months ago. So did Senator Vandenberg of Michigan—without result.

What happened was that last September, Griffen published the fact that European countries were shipping back to the U. S. A. scarce aluminum we had sent them under the Marshall Plan, at an inflated price of 80 to 90 per cent. At present, U. S. manufacturers can get only about half the aluminum they want, so they'll buy it wherever they can.

Readers clipped the Griffen article and sent it to Paul Hoffman. No result. Then, Hoffman's close friend, Senator Vandenberg—responsible for his appointment as Marshall Plan administrator—called him. Hoffman still poohpoohed the idea that Europe was shipping metal back to us, even wrote a letter to that effect.

Now the return shipments are acknowledged.

Not generally realized, however, is the fact that we are playing into Russian hands by sending aluminum to Europe.

What happens is this. The ECA sells aluminum to Marshall Plan countries at 16 cents a pound. This competes with aluminum produced in France, Italy, and Switzerland at 19 cents.

These countries have greatly expanded their production since the war, but since they cannot compete with the 16-cent ECA aluminum, they sell their product to Russia.

Result: Russia is now buying a good part of the European output and stockpiling it. Furthermore, it is paying for this aluminum in gold. The Soviet is already a large aluminum producer, able to supply its own needs. However, aluminum is one of the most essential of all war materials. Hence the Soviet stockpile.

What this means is that Canadian aluminum, badly needed in the United States, is indirectly going to Russia at the expense of American taxpayers.

Assignment: America

Defensive Weak Spots

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — For more than three months, this correspondent has been conducting a quiet probe into the security of this capital of the United States of America.

The investigation has concerned several distinct phases—involving physical, operational defense, civilian defense, atomic-energy and intelligence security.

With the possible exception of the final phase, intelligence, the information it produced was far from comforting. In fact, particularly for one who makes his home in Washington, it was frightening.

Presented somewhat dogmatically, for the sake of brevity, these were the conclusions drawn from the investigation:

The physical defense of Washington is being planned by four separate armed force organizations. The planners are men of vast experience and expert ability, and all are fully aware of the danger to the capital should the cold war suddenly get hot.

Nevertheless — despite unification, the lack of a master plan which could weld all units into a quickly effective defense force, plus the seeming inadequacy of liaison between units, leaves the impression that a sneak blow struck at the capital would result in at least temporary military chaos.

Second, civilian defense now is being revived on a nationwide scale.

Nevertheless — practically speaking, little has been done locally on civil defense plans, with the result that uncontrolled mass hysteria probably would cause far more casualties, in event of a real or imagined enemy attack, than the actual explosive incident which precipitated the crisis.

Third, secrets of the Atomic Energy Commission headquarters in Washington are so carefully guarded, with everything from electric eyes to synchronized steel doors, that even the scratch-pad doodlings of experts in conference are meticulously burned under guard nightly.

* * *

Difference In Methods.

NEVERTHELESS — Because of an astonishing lack of liaison, said by some to be bred by mutual jealousy, between the AEC and military chieftains, a platoon-sized group of well-trained subversives probably could capture the commission headquarters, and all its atomic secrets, with comparative ease, in event of a Pearl-Harbor type of attack.

Fourth, currently we have at least five intelligence and counter-intelligence units in operation.

They include the Navy, Army, Air Corps, Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Counter-Intelligence Agency — not to mention, of course, various congressional investigating groups.

Of all these, the FBI, being less brass-bound than the military and more experienced than CIA, seems most efficient, at least at the moment.

However, all the intelligence units can boast some brilliant and experienced leaders and operatives. Also, they have evolved various individual so-called master plans which, while not yet fully integrated, still are compatible with one another, and quite capable of grooving in time of great emergency.

Nevertheless — even they have not been able to devise a defense against the so-called "sleeper"—the one-shot spy or saboteur whose perfect background and exemplary conduct may leave him free, under our existing laws, to strike when his superiors decide the time is right.

Until he tips his hand by definite, and perhaps deadly, overt act, no action, civil, criminal or military, can be taken against him.

If suspected, he may, of course, be shadowed but quite often his one-blow role in the subversive scheme of things may keep him above suspicion.

Finally, one of the most controversial issues encountered in the entire investigation was the question of what should be done about the movement of unfriendly nationals, short of actually adopting the police-state tactics so repugnant to most Americans. Here, the contrast is spectacular.

In Russia, for instance, all Americans are closely confined, regulated in travel, and prohibited from innumerable zones. In America, visiting or semi-resident Russians literally can go almost anywhere — even including the Pentagon builing and at least inside the Atomic Energy Commission headquarters!

Washington Calling

Turmoil In Indonesia

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE REALITY behind the black headlines is so hard for us here in the United States to conjure up. It is Christmas here in America. Across the expanse of snow-covered lawn the fir trees are masked in snow. Java is a long way off. Jogjakarta is an impossible name.

White men are at war with brown men in the steaming jungle. That is the significance of the Dutch attack on the Indonesia republic for western Europe and North America—the two little islands of white peoples in a vast sea of color.

The guns of the Dutch have silenced a debate that has been going on since the end of World War II. They may have ended for a long time the hope of a peaceful conclusion of that debate.

From across the far Pacific you can hear those voices. The Dutchman is the efficient manager and exploiter of Indonesia's rich resources. He built up the profitable structure of processing and trade that existed before the war. He speaks with clear, calm precision, trying to keep out of his voice his irritation with those who do not understand the problem.

The native speaks with quiet intensity. He believes in his heart that he speaks for all the dispossessed and exploited millions of Asia. He is convinced that his is the voice of the future, of freedom and independence.

* * *

As the Debate Goes.

The Dutchman: You do not understand in America. When you say Indonesia, you have no picture of what we are faced with. The Malay is indolent. He does not create. In all the time that we have been there, no Malay has ever made a fortune.

The native: Of course not. We have been given no opportunity. We have been held in subjection under the Dutch system of colonial exploitation, and a very efficient system it was.

The Dutchman: Yes, but the Chinese who came to Indonesia have prospered. Many have made fortunes working alongside of us. Let's not talk of the past. Americans do not seem to appreciate that we offered the republic of Indonesia independence in a federation with the Netherlands. We have been extraordinarily patient in the face of anarchy and chaos.

The native: You expect us to move overnight, in a moment of time, from colonial serfdom — it was almost that—to orderly government. And this after we have suffered the terrors of invasion and occupation by the Japanese.

The Dutchman: The fact remains that your so-called government cannot control the irregulars and the guerrillas whose threats and depredations prevent any order in the territory over which the republic assumes jurisdiction. The leaders of these irregulars are, in effect, war lords. We have waited many months through long drawn-out negotiations for some indication that the republic could establish an orderly government.

The native: Your federation is merely a device whereby you can continue the kind of colonial exploitation that enriched the Netherlands before the war. Our toil, our sweat, our resources supplied nearly half of the wealth of Holland and made it possible for you to maintain a high standard of living.

So the guns roar and the bombs begin to fall. During all the bitter debate, the United States has tried to intervene. But the effort, it seems to me, has been too tentative, too timid, without constructive and positive purpose. This is the more tragic in view of our strong moral position in Asia against the background of having worked with the Filipinos toward their independence.

Our policy has been to restore Holland to strength and prosperity in Europe while preventing the kind of war which has now broken out. Perhaps that was an impossible goal. And in spite of our good intentions, we may end with the ill will of both sides in this momentous struggle.

Scholastic Lull Noted

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The nation's colleges and universities are experiencing their first "lull in enrollment" since the postwar boom, Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati, has reported.

Dr. Walters' annual statistical survey for "school and society," an educational weekly, shows that although attendance figures, as of Nov. 1, 1948, in 726 universities and colleges were slightly above 1947, they represent a sharp check in the "growing pains" trend which higher education has experienced since the discharge of World War II veterans.

The 726 institutions show 1,931,979 students—1,580,783 full-time and 531,196 part-time

Dr. Walters said these figures represent an approximate increase of only nine-tenths of one per cent in full-time enrollment and 4.5 per cent in part-time attendance.

"It is the veterans," he added, "accounting for more than 40 per cent of the enrollment, who maintain the current level."

Dupli-Print Workers Hold Party

The annual party of the employes of the Dupli-Print service was held Tuesday night at Mrs. Nellie Staiger's, 37 Giessner avenue. Eleven persons were present.

A family style dinner was served, the employed exchanged gifts, and the company gave them Christmas presents.

PATRICIA CHILDS BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. YEARDLEY

Formal Open Church Ceremony Solemnized Tuesday Afternoon at First Lutheran Church.

A LOVELY informal wedding gow of off-white flat satin was chosen by Miss Patricia Childs for her marriage to Roger Busch Yeardley of Parkersburg, W. Va., Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First English Lutheran church.

The dress was made with a sheer portrait yoke of marquisette, the front squared to a low neckline. A wide bertha trimmed the outer edge of the yoke and was caught up with a knot in front. The sleeves were short with matching gauntlets which met the sleeves. Tiny buttons closed the tight wrist. The back of the gown was caught up with a bow giving the bustle a double effect and the skirt fell into a medium length train.

Her veil of imported silk illusion was of the Mary of Scot type and in the point of the cap was a bit of Chantilly lace, taken from her mother's vail.

She wore a gold pin, a gift to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Victor L. Lime, on her 50th wedding anniversary. She carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid, tied with satin streamers.

Miss Childs chose the same style gown for her sister, Shirley, who served as maid of honor. The shade was Flame Tip satin, made identical to the bride's except for a train. She carried white pompons centered with Flame Tip roses.

Bridesmaids were Misses Ilene and Irene, Hoffman, twin sisters, and close friends of the bride. They wore like styled gowns of sea green satin, made with modified sweetheart neckline with little rolled corner in the back. The skirts were caught up in folds in front, giving a full front style to the frocks. Their matching gauntlets were short. All the attendants wore ostrich circlets of white with matching velvet flower trim to the side. The Misses Hottman carried bouquets of white pompons centered with green shattered carnations.

Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with two beauty baskets of white mums, against a background of greenery. Four seven branch candelabra illuminated the scene. Altar vases filled with white flowers and altar tapers were also used.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vinton G. Childs, 568 Garfield Place, and Mr. Yeardley is the son of Mrs. Caroline Yeardley, 1423 Spring street, Parkersburgh, W. Va., and the late Dr. N. P. Yeardley.

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell officiated for the open church ceremony in the presence of many relatives and friends.

Miss Marie Boette, of Huntington, W. Va., played a half-hour program of nuptual music, and soloists were the bridegroom's brothers, Lawrence of Parkersburg, and Dr. Robert Yeardley, New Lexington.

Mrs. Clayson Bell played the organ softly during the ceremony.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Childs wore a gray crepe dress with pink accessories and a camellia corsage. Mrs. Yeardley chose a blue frock with gardenia corsage.

Ushering the guests to their pews were Richard Gates of Galion, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, and William Dundon, Alliance, a close friend. Gail Stout, Parkersburg, W. Va., close friends of the groom, served as his best man.

Immediately following the service a reception was held at the Childs' home for 70 guests. Centering the large serving table was a four tiered wedding cake, lighted white tapers and white and green flowers. Miss Lura Brown, close friends of the bride, and Miss Norma Jean Campbell of Dayton, also a good friend, poured.

When the couple left for a trip to Chicago, Ill., the bride wore a brown gabardine suit with matching accessories. They will reside at 2126 Indiana avenue, Columbus, upon their return.

The bride was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and is a junior at Ohio State University. Mr Yeardley was graduated from Parkersburg high school and is also a junior at Ohio State. He is a member of Epsilon Psi Epsilon fraternity.

Guests were in attendance from Parkersburg, W. Va., Sherman, N. Y., Cleveland, Dayton and Duluth, Minn.

Unusual Program Given to Units Of First Methodist Church Guild

Units five, six and seven of the Wesleyan Service guild of the First Methodist church held a Christmas party Monday night at the church.

Mrs. Henry Albers served as program chairman. Devotions were led by Mrs. Edna Allgire. Mrs. John Cookman read a story entitled "Is There a Santa Claus?"

A playlet, "Trials of Christmas Shopping," was enacted by Miss Bessie Bell, Miss Ethel Hughes, Mrs. Helen Massa and Mrs. Martin Merschdorf.

Mrs. Kenneth Erb, accompanied by Mrs. Willis Naas at the piano, sang two selections, "Cantique Noel" and "Sweet Little Jesus Boy." Yuletide traditions in foreign lands were presented as follows: Mrs. Allan H. Mosey, Iceland; Miss Theo Brown, Hungary; Miss Wanda Taylor, Scotland and Miss Mildred Rice, Turkey.

Mrs. Ray Walters read two poems. A parody on "The Night Before Christmas" and "What Do I Want For Christmas?" The story of our first Christmas tree was read by Mrs. Walter Andrews.

Season whole cranberry sauce with mustard, allspice, and a little cider vinegar and spread over a slice of ham that is to be baked.

Royal Regal Garden Club Entertained

The annual Christmas party of the Royal Regal Garden club was held last evening with a dinner at the home of Mrs. Foster Stough, Rae avenue.

Evergreens decorated the long table and little corsages of holly berries and pine were at each place. Mrs. Foster Hunter, Mrs. S. S. Little, Mrs. E. A. Graham, Mrs. Wilmer Gross and Boyd Hartman were the associate hostesses.

The group then went to the home of Mrs. Gross, Dawson avenue, for the program and gift exchange. Santa and his reindeer were placed inside the door. Christmas music came from a little white church with lighted windows. A blue window was trimmed with a canopy of celephane under which stood a Madonna with an arrangement of little white mums, candles and silver leaves. The rooms were decorated with poinsettias made from magnolia leaves and pine branches.

Mrs. Charles Sheriff gave an interesting book review, on "The Legend of the Christmas Rose."

A gift exchange followed for the members. Mrs. Sheriff was presented with a lovely gift from the Garden club.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses at a late hour.

The next meeting will be a dessert luncheon with Mrs. R. M. Varney, Park avenue west, on January 18.

All alumni and active college members of Phi Delta Theta fraternity are cordially invited to an informal get-together Wednesday evening, Dec. 29, at 8 p. m., at the home of James Crum, 470 Sloane avenue. Members have been contacted from Clarksburg, W. Va., Columbus, Dayton, and Cleveland. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Bud Roberts, Shelley Swank, Dave Richards and Bob Miller. Louis Bromfield and other prominent Mansfield men, who are members, have been invited.

Ruth Chapter Given Program

"What Happened to the Star," was the title of the Christmas story given by Mrs. John Roman, worthy matron, when she presided at the meeting of Ruth Chapter, No. 17, O.E.S. at the Masonic Temple Monday evening. Mrs. James Kennedy sang "Star of the East."

Following the Christmas program refreshments were served in the banquet room, with Mrs. Dan Lamneck and her committee in charge. The group sang Christmas carols and a Barber Shop Quartet, composed of Martin and Mrs. William Barnes, gave several Christmas songs. They were accompanied by Mrs. Corson Brower.

Table decorations and favors were in keeping with the Christmas season. The next regular meeting will be held Jan. 3 at 7:30 p. m.

MRS. ALBERT STEEN

Patricia Ann Pugh Becomes Bride of Dayton Man Dec. 18

ANNOUNCEMENT is being made here of the marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Pugh, 23 East Second street, daughter of Mrs. Hasel Pugh and Walter Pugh, and Carl Albert Steen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Steen, 912 Kammer avenue, Dayton. Vows were exchanged Dec. 18 at 4:30 p. m. before the altar of the First English Lutheran church.

Closed church was observed for the double ring service with Rev. C. P. Mitchell officiating. Mrs. Clayson Bell presided at the organ for a program of nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her brother, Robert, the bride wore an afternoon dress of mahogany crepe with green accessories, and carried four white orchids, tied with gold streamers.

Miss Rosemary Hager, a close friend and school mate, from Miami Valley hospital, Dayton, was her maid of honor. Serving as best man was Robert Neidhimer, also of Dayton.

Mrs. Pugh chose a black dress with black and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Steen chose a black frock with black accessories and a corsage of Briercliffe roses.

Following the service a dinner was served at the Fairview hotel after which a reception was held later at the Pugh home. When the couple left for a short wedding trip the bride wore a grey velvet suit with dark blue accessories and a corsage of orchids.

After Jan. 3 the couple will reside at Kent, Ohio.

The bride was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and Miami Valley School of Nursing, where she is now employed. Mr. Steen, a graduate of Dayton high school, is now attending Kent State college. He also attended Ohio State University. He is affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity.

Santa's Sack Offers Hints For Last Minute Shoppers

By MARIAN WEST

It's in the bag—or what could the flirtatious wink of that jolly little red-faced gentleman mean?

Yes, that man's just about here again, and before you know it you'll be exploring the exciting contents of his famous pouch. But while in the midst of the hustle and bustle of Christmas preparations, why not a sneak preview of what might be in store? Then if you have any last minute shopping there might be a helpful suggestion or two.

What's that on top of the bag, tied tight with a splash of scarlet ribbon? Why that's yours, Mom, the tag says so. And nestling 'neath the tissue is an ice cream pink robe, so soft and wooly. And slippers to match!

A bit deeper is a big box with Sis's name. Ummmm, can't you see her tearing the wrappings with hopeful determination, then turning all smiles when that lacy slip and nightie peep through?

And for the young gentlemen in the family, watch for Sonny's pleased expression when the box that looks suspiciously like ties, boasts a couple of pairs of gay Argyle socks you've been keeping the knitting needles clicking on lately. Something for his favorite sport makes a hit, too, like a new fishing tackle.

The man of the house has been forgotten? Indeed not, there toward the bottom of the bag—the reason Santa's all stooped over—is a brand new set of garden tools. And for good measure, those snowy white linen handkerchiefs you made for him. And does he look pleased

And what about Uncle Willie, the old rascal. There's only one thing that will make him happy, and that comes out of the bag in the shape of a bottle.

But Aunt Nellie isn't pleased quite so easily. She'll sure be surprised when she opens her bottle-shaped package wrapped in flamboyant hues of red and green. An intoxicating perfume will present itself to reawaken her youthful yearnings for allure.

Now the show's over and there is still the real Christmas to look forward to. But isn't it exciting to imagine just what will be under the tree?

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, December 23

This might be characterized as an unpredictable day with affairs of all description seeming to work in reverse. It might be as well to "expect the unexpected," since all sorts of plans and objectives work at cross purposes. The mind may be unable to cope with strange situations; there may be no cooperation from influential sources; funds may run low or extravagant inclinations all may spell dismay. However, there may be comfort and compensation in purely social, domestic or affectional relations. Gift giving and getting excites.

Those whose birthday it is, may be prepared for the advent of some curious or unpredictable adventure, unsetting plans and probably causing some form of disruption or separation. Affairs may be frustrated by unusual elements, with confusion and lack of cooperation from those whose approbation is urgent. Extravagance and excesses may cause anxiety and rearranged plans and objectives. Nevertheless the holiday spirit may find happy compensations if social, domestic and affectional ties are strong.

A child born on this day may be able to find compensation for certain irregularities or midadventures in life by its own culture, friendliness and sociability. Its generosity may lead to improvidence and thwarted ambitions.

Alpha Xi Delta Fetes Guests Here

Three guests, Miss Dorthy Weaver, a student at Wittenberg college, Miss Helen Zivkoff, who attends the University of Michigan, and Miss Gladys Arnholt, a teacher at Alliance, who was formerly of Mansfield, were in attendance for the Christmas party of Alpha Xi Delta alumnae Monday evening. Mrs. Thomas Scott, 395 Park avenue west, entertained at her home, assisted by Mrs. James Martin.

Miss Weaver and Miss Zivkoff are active members of Alpha Xi Delta sorority at their respective colleges.

A brief business session was in charge of Mrs. W. B. Firestone. Bridge was the diversion of the evening with prizes won by Mrs. Robert Fleming, Mrs. Firestone and Miss Weaver. At a late hour refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 17 at the home of Mrs. Richard Wolford, Sturges avenue.

To dress up broiled fish fillets for guests spread them with a sauce made from butter or margarine, finely chopped parsley, lemon juice and paprika.

Miss Ebbert to Head Junior Club

The Junior Music Study club of the United Presbyterian church met in the parlors of the church with 15 present. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, Marylin Ebbert; vice president, Diane Robenstein; secretary, Mary Ann Shook; treasurer, Phillip Jones.

The club members brought food for a basket for the needy. Luncheon was served from a table attractively decorated with a centerpiece and tapers in keeping with the holiday season. Mrs. Willis Jones was hostess for the party. The advisor for the club is Mrs. C. T. Wolfgang, choir derector of the church.

Hostess Gives Gifts to Group

Members of the Mooseheart Committee, Women of the Moose, met last evening at the home of Mrs. Don Blackledge, 460 Marion avenue. Eleven of the group and one guest, Mrs. Michael Campanelli, senior regent, were present.

Mrs. Blackledge, chairman, conducted the brief business session. The club prize was presented to Mrs. Marion Gerrell. Contest winners were Mrs. Julia Lantz and Mrs. Gerrell.

A gift exchange was held, after which refreshments were served at a table centered with a mixed bouquet and lighted tapers. A large lighted Christmas tree decorated the room. Leather billfolds were given as favors from the hostess. A lodge ring was presented to the chairman from the committee.

Price Slash In Men's Suits Looming

NEW YORK —(AP)— If you're wondering whether your suit will keep out the winter wind much longer, you'll enjoy eavesdropping on all the talk down on clothing row.

The men's clothing trade is having quite an argument with itself these days—about you.

It seems you didn't buy as many suits last fall as the cutter's made. And now there are quite a lot of men's suits still hanging on the store racks. The question is whether you will buy these same suits next fall, if the store holds them over. Or whether you should be enticed into the store now by special mark-down sales.

The traditional way of doing business is to regard men's suits as "staples." Because you are slow to accept style changes, "staple" suits can be pushed to the back of the rack and pulled out again next fall for you to rub between your fingers.

Women's clothing, on the other hand, is put on sale at the end of the season, because changing fashions and whims rule them out as "staples."

The argument over cutting prices of men's suits isn't all idle chatter. It's pretty keen just now because some stores have already cut prices. Others believe that men who want suits are staying away because they hope for post-Christmas clothing sales.

Merchants who haven't cut prices, and who say they aren't going to, contend that many of the suit sales so far have been of "distress" goods and not of "regulars," which they define as standard, good quality suits which can be held over from season to season as "staples."

The excess or distress supply on the market is admitted by most sources. The market planning services of the National Credit Office, Inc., says production of men's suits in the first nine months of this year topped retail sales by 11 per cent.

Some are worried by that. Others say it merely means the industry is back to "normal," that the boom days of unusual pent-up demand are over, and that from now on the making and selling of suits will work back into the state of uneasy balance that obtains in private business when the law of supply and demand operates uncontrolled.

The New York Clothing Manufacturers exchange enters the argument with a warning to retailers that if they cut prices now to move out present stock they mustn't hope to replenish at lower prices later.

The exchange says the costs of making a suit can't be lowered and spring prices will be as high or higher than last fall's.

BONUS REPORT ISSUED

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio's World War Two bonus payments are nearing the $200,000,000 mark. The bonus commission announced Monday checks totaling $195,458,785 have been issued. Payments in the last week were listed as $1,330,771.72.

Furnaces Too Hot, Firemen Called

Firemen answered two calls Tuesday resulting from overheated furnaces.

At 3:56 p. m. firemen from station No. 2 went to the home of Howard Register, 102 Harker street, and at 10:30 p. m. a truck from Central station went to the residence of C. L. Jenkins, 120 Willow street. No damage was reported.

Pre-Holiday Mail Far Ahead Of 1947 Figures In City

Although the Christmas rush at the Mansfield post office was slow in getting started, business this week is more than making up for the lag last week.

Cancellations for the nine-day period ended last night were 80,572 ahead of the total for a corresponding period in 1947, Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said.

For the nine-day period from Monday, Dec. 13, through yesterday there were 1,279,342 cancellations. Last year's total for a comparable period was 1,198,770; Ford said.

However, mail flood was diminishing today and the peak of business is passed, Ford said. Inside workers are being laid off, although delivery men are being retained for the last minute incoming mail.

Cancellations yesterday totaled 143,555. For the same day a year ago, they were 66,765.

"I expect a couple of more small flurries, but the big rush is over for this year," Ford said.

Lint Blamed In Two Flash Fires

Flash fires caused by lint and dust under the laundromats at the American Laundromat company, 233 Park avenue east, brought calls to Central station firemen twice in a half hour early today.

Firemen said the first call was sounded at 8:08 a. m. and the second at 8:30 a. m. Firemen said no damage was caused to the machines and that it was not known what had ignited the lint and dust under the machines.

No. 5 station men went to the home of Joseph Edelstein, 606 Sunset boulevard, at 2.10 p. m. yesterday when a safety valve had blown from a hot water tank. Firemen said no damage was caused.

Ashland Driver Fined $75, Costs

William J. Uebel, of Ashland, was fined $75 and costs and lost his right to drive for six months after he was found guilty in municipal court today of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

He will be permitted to drive to and from his farm, under the suspension.

Firm Takes Over Theater For Party

Sixteen hundred are expected at each of the two performances of the annual Christmas party for employes and families of the Tappan Stove company at the Ohio theater today.

The first performance was to start at 4 p. m. and the second at 7.30 p. m. Five professional vaudeville acts will provide entertainment. They will include ventriloquist acts, a harmonica team, a troupe of jugglers, a comedy and novelty act and a Dalmation dog act.

In addition to the show, there will be a community sing led by the professional master of ceremonies, and the distribution of gifts to the children by Santa Claus.

Boys and girls at the Richland County Children's Home were guests of the Tappan organization at this afternoon's party. They were scheduled to receive gifts.

Committee members are: Gerald Butler, chairman, Ralph Blackledge, Orrel Broach, Joseph Harrod, Richard Kanz, Miss Viola Knapp, Jay McKinley, Harold Nusbaum, David Prion, Lester Rapp, Paul Snyder and Charles Tucker.

Final Sewage Plant Check Authorized

Crestline Council Approves Payment

CRESTLINE — The final $7,160.24 payment on the sewage disposal plant was authorized last night by city council. There still remains some sewer work and drilling to be done. The amount was included in a $8,596.72 payroll appropriation. The plant check will be forwarded to the Miller-Thompson company in Detroit.

A resolution passed authorizing Mayor A. P. Sonner and Clerk Marie Schill to purchase real estate for the local waterworks from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jordan in Springfield township.

Another approved resolution authorized the mayor and clerk to get an easement from C. A. Stephan for for the purpose of putting in a necessary water line to transport water from the Jordan farm.

Plans for the special election for operating expenses were discussed but due to the expenses involved it was tabled until May.

OBTAINS LIUOR PERMIT

BELLVILLE—A D-3 liquor permit was issued to Ida L. M. Myers for Bud's Tavern at 148 North Main street, here yesterday by the State Liquor department.

Area Christmas Parties Still Garner Spotlight

Last evening volunteer firemen in Loudonville held their annual party at Young's Arcade Inn where a turkey dinner was served. Mayor Fred Church was in attendance. Afterwards an entertainment program was highlighted by distribution of yearly checks to members.

In Loudonville at 7:30 p. m. today the primary department of Zion Lutheran church holds its yearly children's program. The P-TA's Christmas program will be held in Willard this evening in the high school auditorium. The first three grades of East Central school and the first grade of East Side school will present a songfest.

Also included will be a movie short, assembly singing and an exhibit of the fine arts and industrial arts department. The Eagles lodgs of Willard will hold a morning party at the Temple theater for school children with Santa Claus to distribute treats. A crowd of 800 children is expected.

Council Elects

LOUDONVILLE — The Mohican-Lake farm bureau council held an election of officers which resulted in the following; president Guy Stentz; secretary, Mrs. Carl Mosher; discussion leader, Howard Smith; legislation agent, Alza Crumlick; home and county agent, Pauline Obrecht.

Bucyrus Gets 'Limited' Partnership

Third Such Formed In Crawford History

BUCYRUS — A "limited" partnership, the third formed in Crawford county's history, has been set up here by three Bucyrus industrialists.

The partnership will operate a new company, the Aluminum Casting and Appliance company in a building formerly occupied by the now defunct Wil-Van Equipment company. The company will manufacture aluminum or other light metal alloy castings, appliances and vessels.

The county recorder said the limited partnership agreement is rare in the United States but common in Canada. Of the county's two previous enterprises of this type one was formed in 1886 and the other in 1917. Personal liability is eliminated, only the partnership being liable, it was pointed out.

Partners in the new concern are P H and Charles W Ryder of the Ryder Brass and Foundry company and H S Siegel of the Crawford Steel Foundry company P H Ryder is listed as president, Siegel as vice president and Charles W Ryder, secretary-treasurer.

New Yorkers Ashamed of Third Rate Showing of 'Snow Follies'

NEW YORK—(AP)—Mother Nature is slipping. She let the big city down this time.

Father Knickerbocker is again the world's biggest snow man. But the old boy wasn't knocked on his ear by the advent of winter this year, as he was 51 weeks ago.

Taken by Broadway standards, the giant snow storm of last Sabbath was strictly a low-grade production. It should have been tried out first in New Haven, Boston or Philadelphia before being brought to the big time.

Granted it was the third deepest snow ever to fall here—19.5 inches. But you don't grade an opera or a play by how many people crowd onto the stage. Nor do you judge a chicken by counting its feathers.

Compared to the high drama of the blizzards of 1947 and 1888, this year's snowfall was strictly vaudeville. Even at that it would never get top billing at the old Palace theater.

Everybody in the metropolitan area today feels cheated. Here they want the biggest and the best—or nothing. And there is a widespread feeling that the storm failed dismally to live up to the weather bureau's advance publicity blurbs.

There were a lot of things wrong with it. For one thing it opened on a Sunday—a clear sign of mismanagement by someone. Who cares if it snows in New York on a Sunday? Everybody is already at home and up to his armpits in the Sunday newspapers.

And it was too well advertised. It lacked punch, drama, surprise. Even the dear old Long Island railroad, the commuters' delight, canceled 24 trains in the first 24 hours, and many a veteran rider will insist this makes it little different from a normal day.

The sanitation department, which a year ago was pretty much in the position of Custer in the battle of the Little Big Horn, this year got a head start. It had nearly 20,000 men out early, and almost as many snow flakes fell on them as on the streets—if we may stretch the point a bit.

Yes, sir, even a midget had to look hard to find a place to flounder.

Talk to a survivor of the famous storm of '88, and he says:

"You call this paltry thing a storm? Why in '88 the snow piled up to second-story windows, and the East River friz clear across. You could walk on ice from the Gas House district to Greenpoint in Brooklyn."

That was a real four-star hit snow show.

But today Squire Rockefeller has his ice pond already swept clear. Everybody has to come to work, because the darned transportation systems are working. The streets are just a lot of slush and nonsense.

What caused it? Well, the taxi drivers, who know everything in New York, say:

"It's the atom bomb. It changed the weather all around the world."

In any case, America, accept Gotham's apologies. We admit it was a lousy storm but watch us next year. We'll be back with a new one under better management.

Plans are already under way to use the Empire State building for a measuring stock. But as for the big snow of '48—let's forget it. Every producer comes up with a turkey sometime, and this one is ours.

Time's 'Alibi' For Its Senior Editor Draws Fire From Writer

The current number of embarrassed Timagazine says this about its recent Senior Editor (Whittaker Chambers): "Against the disservice to his country of a decade ago must be set the service we are convinced he is trying to perform for his country now."

Let's keep the facts straight: Confessed Russian spy Chambers' disservice to our country did not end 10 years ago. It continued while he served as a senior editor for Time—by keeping the stolen gov't documents secret for a decade.

By doing that Chambers made it impossible for the authorities to prosecute those guilty (of the crime) under the espionage law. Because of that law's 3-year statute of limitations . . . And if Time believes he is performing a service to our nation, why did it accept his resignation?

The No. One touring troupe of "Oklahoma" has a melodrama of its own behind the scenes. It concerns an unfortunate girl and a giggie in the troupe, whose wife (also in the cast) shrugs: "So wot?"

Long Island's socially registered madcap went on another spree, which ended in a wild ride as she flung her clothes out the window. The judge quietly heard and dismissed the case when the family promised medical treatment.

Nancy Choremi (whose wiretap case startled New Yorkers) has parted from her husband in Egypt, as expected all along.

Playwright Maxwell Anderson, who has publicly denounced the drama critics, told his press bureau not to quote their sugary quotes on his new hit...So it becomes the first not to toot its own Tooti-Frooti...He also thawt it'd be cute to take one advert saying: "All the critics thought this show was wonderful, but come anyway." He was talked out of it.

Local swank Italians hear Mussolini's widow may marry an obscure farmer there ... And that Umberto II of Italy may peddle his title to Louise Manton, of the Champagne-in-the-Neck Set...J. Hoagland, of the Jergens program, joins Campbell Soup Jan. 1.

The biggest black market syndicate (operating here since the war) went into voluntary bankruptcy this week. After a Wall St. factoring group tipped the Dis't Attorney on their activities. Watch the price of meat now.

U. S. Att'y Gen'l Clark is expected to quit soon to join other ex-White House intimates in the law firm of Thurman Arnold and Paul Porter. He will handle the movie divorcement cases...It isn't any herring that's making the White House see red. It's the facts!... Headline: "Reds Will Have Atomic Bomb Before 1950"... How long before the Nazis have it?

Boards Sell Bonds For Buildings

Funds Provided For School Jobs

Four Richland county school districts sold $332,000 worth of bonds yesterday to finance school improvements. The bond issues were approved by voters in the November election.

The biggest sale was $180,000 worth of Madison school bonds. Best bid was that of McDonald and Company, Cleveland investment house, which offered to lend the money at 2¼ per cent interest and a premium of $2,835.

The Madison board of education made the award to that company. The bids were opened at 1 p. m. in the office of the county superintendent of schools in the courthouse.

Present, besides school board members, were County Supt. Boyd Robinson, Olan LcRue, Madison superintendent, and the architect for the projects, Charles J. Marr, of New Philadelphia.

Officials described the bid offers as "very good." Second best bidder on the Madison bonds was Stranahan, Harris and company, of Toledo, with an interest rate offer of 2¼, and a premium offer $2,309. The only local bid was that of the Richland Trust company, 2½ per cent interest and $720 premium.

GETS UNION ISSUE

Best bidder on the Union Local school district offering of $80,000 worth of bonds was that of the First Cleveland corporation, of Cleveland, which won the award, with an offer of 2¼ per cent interest and a premium of $327.

The second best bidder was Braun, Bosworth and company, of Toledo, 2¼ per cent interest, and a premium of $53, and third, Fahey, Clark Company, Cleveland, with a bid of 2½ per cent interest, and a premium of $1,836.

The Fahey, Clark company was the successful bidder on the remaining two bond issues and won the awards for the $48,000 Plymouth issue and the $24,000 Mifflin issue.

Its offer on the Plymouth issue was 2¼ per cent interest and $486 premium, and on the Mifflin issue, 2¼ per cent interest and $349 premium.

The second best bidder on the Plymouth issue was the First Cleveland corporation, 2¼ and $396; and third, J. A. White company, Cincinnati, 2¼ and $390.

The First Cleveland corporation also was second best bidder on the Mifflin issue with 2¼ and and $51, while the White company was 3rd with 2½, and $286.

Marr said bids on projects for three of the school districts will be received during the last week in January. The Plymouth district already has opened contract bids and required the additional money to go ahead since it has $80,000 on hand for an elementary school project.

After the bonds are printed and signed by the president and clerk of each board they will be delivered to the companies and the money then will be received by the school boards. The bonds are dated as of Jan. 1, 1949.

Answers School Suit

Data Insufficient, Firm Contends

The Mastran Construction company, Youngstown, yesterday filed an answer to a suit for $31,653 damages brought by the Mansfield board of education, alleging the company refused to enter into a contract to build the West Fifth street school.

The board contended the Mastran company was lo bidder, but refused to enter into a contract and asked the sum for damages.

In its answer, the construction company says it is not liable because the alleged contract offered by the board of education did not conform to the offer made by the Mastran company.

It adds the alleged contract did not contain a certificate showing there was a sufficient sum of money for payment of the contract price and says the board by rejecting all bids, terminated the offer of Mastran. It claims the subsequent acceptance did not create a contract.

The answer also sys the board unreasonably delayed re-advertising for bods.

The board contended Mastran's refusal to enter into a contract cost the school board the amount asked because of the necessity for re-advertising and because it had to enter into a contract calling for greater expenditures.

Widow Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Ida Mittenbuhler, 75, of 147 Bartley avenue, died at General hospital last night after an extended illness.

She was born in Plymouth and lived in Mansfield during the past 25 years. She was the widow of George Mittenbuhler.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. F. H. McDowell, 147 Bartley avenue, and one granddaughter, Mrs. T. P. Wilhelm, of Kent.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the Finefrock funeral home. Rev. Herbert S. Garnes of St. Luke's Lutheran church will officiate. Burial will be in the Plymouth cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Long Illness Proves Fatal

Mrs. Josephine Miller, 76, widow of Henry Miller, died at the Hammond Rest home, 190 Park avenue west, 1 a. m. today following an extended illness.

Mrs. Miller was born in Seneca county, Oct. 2, 1872 and had lived in Mansfield for the past three years.

She is survived by one sister, Miss Anna Alt of New Washington and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held at the Wappner funeral home Friday at 10 a. m. with Rev. E. W. Welch, pastor of the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Identify Body Of Roosevelt

SHANGHAI — (UP) — The operations manager of Chinese National Aviation corporation notified headquarters here today that Quentin Roosevelt and 34 others died in the crash of one of the company's planes yesterday.

Capt. E. M. Allison wired from Hong King that 27 of the victims were Chinese passengers, mostly wealthy evacuees from Shanghai.

"All aboard were killed in the first impact," Allison reported. "The bodies have been sent to the Kowllon mortuary."

Asks For 'Shorty' —Gets the Police

A nine-year-old Newman street boy, three days on probation for stealing a wallet from the YMCA, fell back into the hands of the law at 12:30 a. m. today when he asked for "Shorty" at the Pennsylvania railroad gate tower at East Fourth street.

The child, officers said, involved himself in the theft of checks from the Wolf Insurance company mailbox, 72½ North Main street, when he asked the watchman in the tower where he could cash the checks.

Police were summoned to the tower by the watchman, Anson Call, of Crestline, who said the boy had come looking for "Shorty." From what Call could gather, "Shorty" was the watchman on duty Monday night. The boy told police he had stayed in the tower all Monday night with "Shorty" and another man.

After conversing with Call for awhile, the boy showed Call two checks, one for $19 and the other for $13.38, both made out to the Wolf Insurance company. When the boy asked where he could cash the checks, Call summoned the police who said investigation found that the child had stolen the checks from the company's mailbox.

Police took the boy home pending further investigation of the case.

The child, records showed today, was the same boy put on probation from juvenile court last Saturday after he was found guilty of stealing a wallet, containing $54 from the trousers of Robert Seitz, Mansfield, R. D. 1. Seitz said he was taking a shower at the YMCA when the wallet was stolen on Nov. 30. Records also showed that the boy was probated to his parents and warned that a repeated misdemeanor would send him to the Bureau of Juvenile Research in Columbus.

2-Day-Old Infant Dies In Hospital

Barbara Ann Hahn, two-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Hahn, 77 West Park boulevard, died at General hospital early today. She was born Dec. 20.

Surviving, besides the parents, are grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hahn and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Raphael all of Mansfield.

Services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at the Wappner funeral home with Rev. C. A. Portz officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Deputies Wrap Gifts

Public Helps Young Unfortunates

Deputies in the juvenile court were busy for a time yesterday afternoon wrapping gifts donated for boys and girls under care or commitment by the juvenile court.

Among the gifts received or purchased Juvenile Officer Ralph W. Carroll said, were books, ties, scarves, candy, shaving kits, puzzles, handkerchiefs and games.

Carroll said he purchased many gifts to supplement those received so that boys and girls on the gift list will receive similar presents.

Besides a $20 donation from the WSCS of the Methodist church in Shelby and $75 from the 40 et 8 club of the McVey Post American Legion, Carroll said there were some $1 donations, making the total about $100 used to purchase gifts.

A number of gifts also were received from Mrs. Hazel Butzloff of 100 Ohio street. Carroll said the deadline for gifts or donations is Friday noon since he has to get the presents to the boys from Richland county at the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster and girls at the Girls' Industrial school at Delaware before Christmas. Gifts also will go to those in the detention home or those placed on farms or in foster homes by the court.

Appeal Rejected

COLUMBUS— (INS) —Harold A. Beach jr., 23-year-old Cleveland youth and once an inmate in a mental institution, must die in the electric chair Feb. 2 for the sex-slaying a year ago of eight-year-old Sheila Ann Tuley. The supreme court today rejected Beach's appeal.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Two Mansfield men, who are interested in civic and business activities of the city, are having birthdays today. They are Frank Berkey, personal director of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, and Emmett Casey, owner of the Casey Coal and Construction company.

Berkey, a Mansfield resident since 1922, was active in the organization of the Exchange club here and its first president. He's a member of the First Lutheran church, a volunteer worker for the Red Cross and interested in Masonic lodge work. His birthday celebration will be a quiet one at home this evening with Mrs. Berkey and their two children.

Casey celebrated his birthday in a big way Sunday with his daughter Anne, who also has a birthday this month. Tonight the immediate family will gather at the dinner table for a birthday cake and gifts.

Casey likes children. He's a fixer of all the broken toys in the neighborhood, Mrs. Casey says. Besides, he is assistant cub master of his son, Bill's Pack No. 2. Casey is a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Elks, and Exchange club. He likes football games.

Mrs. Emma Gygas is observing her 80th birthday today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Luther McCally, 581 West Fourth street, with whom she lives. There will be a family dinner tonight and the "guest" list will include 11 grandchildren and Mrs. Gygas's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Madison from Ludington, Mich.

Lexington Man Hurt In Mishap

Truck and Car Collide In City

A hitch-hiked ride of less than a block last night on Lexington avenue cost Paul Johnson, 23, of Lexington, R. D. 1, serious injuries in a traffic accident.

Johnson was injured at approximately 10:40 p. m. when the car in which he had been riding only a few seconds, rammed a two-ton dump truck in front of 158 Lexington avenue, then veered and struck another car in the opposite traffic lane, police said.

Johnson suffered a skull fracture and lacerations of the mouth and eyes.

Police said the accident occurred just south of the intersection of Lexington avenue and South Main street.

Richard A. Denman of Chesterville, driver of the car who picked up Johnson, told police he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car when he crashed into the rear of the parked truck.

The impact threw the Denman car into the left lane of traffic and into the side of a car driven by Charles H. Fuchs, 534 Sloane avenue.

Admitted to General hospital, Johnson was reported in "good" condition today.

The truck, police said, was owned by Thomas Hillman and Sons, 335 South Main street.

Push Search For Escaper

Mansfield reformatory officials continued a search today for Allen Hudson, 28, of Summit county (Akron) who eluded capture by OSR officials yesterday when he disappeared into a swamp near Shenandoah.

Meanwhile, Hudson's companion, Lewis Olmstead, 21, of Hamilton county (Cincinnati) gave himself up to officials during the afternoon chase.

OSR officials said the pair escaped the farm Monday and were believed to be out of the vicinity when an immediate search failed to locate the escapers. However, a "tip" from a Shenandoah resident at noon yesterday, renewed the search and resulted in Olmstead's surrender.

Hudson was received on March 24, 1942 to serve 10 to 25 years for armed robbery. Olmstead was received on Jan. 2, 1946 to serve one to 10 years for embezzlement.

'Moans' Bring Call to Sheriff

Deputy Sheriff Ralph Hildebrand hurried to the State Route 39—Springmill-West area yesterday afternoon when the sheriff's office received a telephone report someone was "screaming in pain."

On arrival, Hildebrand said he, too, heard the intermittent moaning sound and made an investigation along the Erie railroad in the area, in the belief someone might have been hurt.

Finding no one, he later heard the sound coming from another direction. He found a group of county highway workers making repairs to a bridge on the Springmill-West road.

There, Hildebrand found they were using a chain-saw to cut timber piling for the bridge, which was the source of the screaming, moaning noise. He said the wind carried the eerie sound for nearly a mile.

Brothers Confess Theft of Motor

Two brothers, 11 and 15 years of age, were put on probation for six months yesterday by Juvenile Judge Stuart Cramer after confessing to the theft of a $39 electric motor.

The motor was taken from the Case Lumber company on South Diamond street last Saturday.

The two were ordered to report to the court each Saturday and to pay damages.

G. W. Stephens Recognized As 'Honor Citizen of Month'

G. W. Stephens, president of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, last night was presented a pin by the Mansfield Junior Chamber of Commerce as the city's "Honor Citizen" for December.

The presentation was made by Robert Murphy, Jaycee president, during "The Best Is Yet To Come" show at Johnny Appleseed auditorium.

Murphy, in naming Stephens as the "Honor Citizen," said his civic activities "have been many and varied. He has been a strong benefactor of our schools, the YMCA, the YWCA, the Friendly House, the Scout organizations and a host of other civic enterprises."

Stephens, in accepting the pin, said the committee had been "overly generous." He thanked Murphy and commended the Jaycees for sponsoring the shows.

Proceeds from the shows are used for civic improvements, sponsored by the Jaycees. About 1,200 persons attended the two shows, which featured an array of Hollywood talent.

Hollywood players included the dog which was featured with Bing Crosby in the "Emperor Waltz," as well as the dancing team of Larry and Pamela, who danced in that picture.

Another actor was described as the "fall guy." He was Pat Moran, who has fallen down for Jack Benny, John Barrymore, and other movie actors as their "double." He described how he falls down in the movies.

G. W. STEPHENS

One of the funniest acts of all was Wilbur Hall. Hall's fiddling kept the crowd laughing throughout. He also played the trumpet and coronet at the same time and the trombone and fiddle at the same time (it can be done).

Another movie star appearing was Joey Hall, one of the birds in the movie, "Bill and Coo." The bird was in the same act.

Music was provided by Charlie Fisk and his band, with singing by Ginny Coons and Gene Canfield.

The children of the Children's Home were guests of Gordon Sowash at the first show.

Tygers Defeat Alliance Cagers, 60 to 45

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

SID GILLMAN'S taking over as Cincinnati football coach was predicted in this column as far back as Nov. 1, 1948. . . . For awhile we were afraid the forecast wouldn't come true. . . . Calling the shot on Gillman makes the second we have named on big Ohio coaching chances. . . . The Stuffer was the first to come up with the Wes Fesler selection as the Ohio State boss. . . . The Nov. 1 missive also said that Paul Dietzel, the former Tyger gridder, would probably follow Gillman to Cincy. . . . That announcement should be forthcoming within a few days. . . . Dietzel played under Gillman at Miami and followed Sid to Army as plebe line coach. . . . Paul was Little All-America at Miami and one of the smartest gridders ever to perform in a Senior high suit. . . . In today's mail was a box of Christmas cigars with the notation, "Maybe this will help you pick the winners next fall."

CAGE ACE George Mikan says he loses 12 pounds in a game and can't sleep nights if he misses easy shots . . . Ben Hogan plans to play in only three winter golf tournaments — Los Angeles and Phoenix Opens and the Bing Crosby event . . . CONNIE MACK, the venerable Athletic pilot, says his 1910 Philadelphia team was the best he ever managed . . . Connie's all-time A's team shapes up like this: Jimmy Foxx, first base; Eddie Collins, second base; Frank Baker, third base; Jack Barry, shortstop; Danny Murphy, Mule Haas and Al Simmons, outfield; Mickey Cochrane, catcher and Chief Bender (with one week's rest), pitcher.

Surprise Sale . . .

A surprise ticket sale of ducats for the Jan. 7 game with Ashland was held last night by ticket manager George Sherman.

All but 450 of the seats were sold and they will be placed on sale at the school Jan. 3, Sherman said. The Ashland game, always a hotly contested affair, is an annual sellout.

Freddies Win Seventh Game

FREDERICKTOWN — Knox county league-leading Fredericktown roared its seventh straight basketball victory here last night by a 67-43 score over Bladensburg.

Jim Ewers racked up 21 points to lead the Freddies while Earl Bechtel scored 17. Ten men broke into the scoring column. Fredericktown won the reserve game, 61-12.

Coach Resigns

TIFFIN —(INS)— A A Kramer football and basketball coach at Tiffin Calvert high school for 20 years, announced today he would resign at the close of the school year next June to enter private business.

Shibinski's High With 21 Points

Mansfield Senior high school won its fourth basketball victory in five starts here last night by taking over an inexperienced Alliance quintet, 60 to 45.

After a tight first quarter, the Tygers poured on the coal in the second eight minutes and had little trouble with the smaller Aviators. Coach Vern Hoffman's lads pumped home 17 points to nine for the visitors in the second heat to take a 31-to-19 advantage at the half.

Big Norb Shibinski had his best night ever as he cascaded 21 points through the hoops. He had eight field goals and five foul shots, the second best effort turned in by a Tyger this season. Jimmy Anderson had counted 24 against Tiffin Columbian. Shibinski got four of his buckets on rebounds.

IN EARLY LEAD

Alliance was in the van at the end of three minutes, 6 to 4. Then the Bengals started rolling. Shibinski, Ed Schmitt and Willie Fowler connected on three straight one-handers for Mansfield. Alliance pulled up to within one point when John Borton hit from the foul line and Glenn Lipely dropped in a one-hander. Shibinski and Lipely traded gratis shots.

Co-captain Paul Ferguson notched a foul shot and a field goal to give the Tygers a 14-to-10 lead at the quarter. Mansfield led at the other intermission points, 31 to 19 and 43 to 30. At one time in the fourth quarter, the Tygers had a 17-point margin.

Hoffman started Fowler in place of Howie Tipper at guard and the lithe junior came through with nine points. Two other juniors—Anderson and Schmitt—each had 11 markers. Anderson fouled out midway in the fourth period.

John Burton, rugged Alliance soph, was ousted for too many personals in the first minute of the last stanza.

SHOOTING IMPROVES

The Tygers' shooting showed marked improvement as they made 24 of 75 chances from the field. Mansfield had 12 of 30 in the first half. From the free throw line the Tygers had 12 of 25 while Alliance made 11 of 22.

Jerry Thorpe, the Alliance All-Ohio halfback, had 11 points to trail his backfield mate Candy Carroll who notched 15. Thorpe had a string of 13 consecutive free throws broken when he missed one in the fourth period.

★

Hoffman last night announced the release of Letterman Ken Carver, senior, and Juniors Jack Wise and Don Cline. None of the trio had seen much action this year.

★

Coach Fred Staub's sophomore team had little trouble getting their sixth straight win in the prelim. The Tyger cubs led by the quarters, 6 to 2, 12 to 8 and 25 to 12 before winning, 37 to 23 Lanky Ken McCally paced the scoring with 17 points.

Gillman Reverses Field, Takes Cincy Coaching Job

CINCINNATI—(UP)—Sidney Gillman, the "Miracle Man of Miami," is coming back to Ohio as head football coach at the University of Cincinnati.

Gillman, whose football teams at Miami university were among the strongest in the history of the Oxford school, notified the university yesterday that he would leave his assistant coaching job at Army to accept the Cincinnati job.

He said officials of the United States Military academy at West Point had agreed to release his contract so that he could return to the Ohio coaching post. Army apparently had balked when Gillman first brought up the subject, since he notified University of Cincinnati officials only Monday that he would not be available for the job left vacant when Ray Nolting was fired Dec. 7.

TERMS NOT ANNOUNCED

Terms of Gillman's contract with U. C. were not announced. However, it is believed he will get an eight-year contract at $10,000.

As head coach at Miami university, Gillman compiled an imposing football record. He left this position, which he held four years, to become line coach at Army.

During his four seasons at Miami, the "Gillmanized" Redskins won 31 games while losing six and tying one. His 1947 Miami team was undefeated and went on to a post-season Sun Bowl victory over Texas Tech, 13-12

Gillman was one of the first to use the two-platoon system in football—the system in which different offensive and defensive units are employed. He used it two years ago at Miami, but it did not get national attention until he installed it at Army this year.

Walcott Tops As Contender On Heavy List

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The National Boxing Association said today it thinks Joe Walcott is the logical contender for Joe Louis' title—and then threw an indirect punch at British boxing.

All this came out in the final ratings for 1948.

The NBA didn't name any logical contender for Louis crown. But it listed Walcott as the most likely looking of the lot.

Next came Ezzard Charles, the Cincinnati light heavyweight who knocked out Joe Baksi, the pride of Kulpmont, Pa., in the 11th round of their fight in Madison Square Garden a couple of weeks ago.

SAVOLD MENTIONED

Now we come to the international angle. For at the top of the "honorable mention" group is Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J.

On December 6 Savold lost on a foul to Bruce Woodcock, who swooned to the canvas following a low blow.

Well, the NBA showed what it thought of that performance by putting the Britisher tenth in a field which admittedly is far from brilliant Following Savold, and ahead of Woodcock, are such boxers as Billy Conn, Joe Maxim, Jimmy Bivins, Johnny Flynn, Joe Baksi and Rusty Payne.

Job Speculation

ATHENS —(INS)— Speculation at Athens reached fever pitch at Athens today as to whether Harold E. Wise, who resigned as Ohio University's head football coach would go to Cincinnati to help Sid Gillman.

All-America Loop Draws Battle Lines; Cleveland Browns Draft Doak Walker

CLEVELAND — (UP) — The All-America Football conference, determined to fight on for its existence as a professional grid loop, drew up its battle lines today along a list of 192 draftees.

That was the number of college players picked by AAC teams in their annual draft meeting here yesterday.

But in order to get them in uniform for next season the AAC owners will have to battle down to the last decimal point in a dollar war against owners of National league teams which named the same players in their draft in Philadelphia yesterday. The bidding was expected to soar high, unless, of course, the leagues finally settle their differences before next fall.

DELAYED ACTION

There was a delayed action fuse on the big gun fired at the AAC draft meeting—the selection of Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's dazzling halfback, by the champion Cleveland Browns.

Walker is a junior in college and won't be eligible for pro ball until the 1950 season. The Browns thought they had stolen a march on all other teams by naming him a year ahead of time, but now they find that the Detroit Lions of the NFL used similar forethought.

Down in Dallas, Tex., Walker picked a good seat on the sidelines to watch the battle.

After saying that he didn't know his plans "that far ahead" and that he couldn't sign any contracts until he finished his eligibility, the triple-threater added, "I probably would sign with the club making me the best offer, if I signed at all."

That statement promised to be the keynote as the "cold war" between the two leagues waxes warmer during the winter in the battle to sign players. Three of the eight AAC teams have not yet revealed their draft choices, but the names picked by the others indicated some tough contract battles ahead.

The Chicago Rockets, generally regarded as the AAC's weakest link, laid claim to Slingin' Stan Heath, Nevada's record-breaking passer. However, Heath was also named by Green Bay of the NFL. The Rockets also picked Notre Dame's Tackle Bill Fischer (first choice of the NFL Chicago Cards), Halfback Terry Brennan of Notre Dame and End Warren Huey of Michigan State.

The Brooklyn Dodgers picked Center Chuck Bednarik of Penn as their first choice, but will have to outbid the Philadelphia Eagles for him. The Bums also picked Back Lou Kusserow of Columbia, and almost immediately announced his signing "for a fancy price," Back Wally Triplett of Penn State and two other unnamed players.

THREE MORE BACKS

In addition to Walker, the Browns also secured AAC draft rights to Back Bobby Jack Stuart of Army and Backs Dick Kempthorn and Gene Derricotte of Michigan.

The Baltimore Colts picked two Vanderbilt players, Center John Clark and Guard Ken Cooper.

The New York Yankees named Bock Jack Kurowski of Detroit, Guard George Brown of Texas Christian, and Back John Weber of Princeton.

San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Buffalo said they would announce their choices in "a day or two." A league spokesman said the entire 192 names would be announced at the discretion of the individual clubs.

Pro Football Settles Down To Big Battle

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Professional football battened down today for its annual battle of the Greenbacks.

At least one person who ought to know—NFL commissioner Bert Bell—is inclined to think the cash bidding won't be particularly spirited.

NO TOP STARS

"After all," Bell said, "there weren't many outstanding name players in the college ranks this year. There wasn't anywhere near as many as there have been during the past several seasons."

He's right on that count. There weren't many names like Charley Trippi, Johnny Lujack, Bobby Layne, Bob Chappuis, Glenn Davis or Doc Blanchard among the players performing on college gridirons this year.

"It stands to reason," Bell went on, "that there won't be any fabulous salary offers for the crop that's available now."

The NFL commissioner predicted that there won't be many fat bonuses for the '48 college crop and that "economic conditions will bring the scale down for the high-salaried players in the game today just as they will for bricklayers and carpenters and other tradespeople."

Paul Brown Awarded Half-Soles

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Paul E. Brown, coach of the three-time all-America conference champions from Cleveland known as the "walking man" because of his tromping up and down the sidelines during football games, is all set for the 1949 campaign

More than 600 fans gathered for a luncheon honoring him, presented him with 16 pairs of halfsoles to keep his shoes in shape for the long, turf-kicking sidelines jaunts

Other gifts included Western Union messenger boy caps for guards Lynn Houston and Bob Gaudio, who change spots on practically every play as they carry information from the bench to the Browns, and a huge deep-freeze cabinet.

★

Brown, in accepting the plaudits of the luncheon guests, took cognizance of the current controversy between the National Football league and the A. A conference.

"All this bickering and bellyaching hurts football," Brown said "The leagues could have made so many important decisions, had peace been achieved. The decisions would have been important to college football as well as the professional game We could have taken the pressure off college coaches by deciding to stay away from players who have more college eligibility, but who are eligible for draft. The war, with delayed graduations, created a situation which isn't good for football."

★

The Cleveland mentor said he thought coaching professional football was far easier than coaching the collegiate game.

"Sometimes I think," he said, "that I want to get back into the collegiate field, but as the time approaches for me to do that, the decision becomes more difficult. My lot here has been a happy one. "I sometimes wonder how I got into the coaching game. Certainly I didn't study for it. But once I started I just felt that I wasn't actually working, so I've stuck with it. It has been a pleasant life.

"What professional football needs today is to get up an organization as close to the baseball setup as possible. We need the fine overall integrity and government of that game I believe we are gradually working toward that goal—for things that are right generally work out that way."

Ontario Wins Sixth From Lexington

Howie Sunnucks Counts 19 As Warriors Win, 38 to 34

By CHARLEY STINE

LEXINGTON—Ontario clung tightly to its undefeated record and Richland county league lead by turning back the rangy Lexington [illegible]emen, 38-34, here last night. It was the sixth consecutive [illegible]y for Ontario.

County league scoring leader Howard Sunnucks, Ontario, singed [illegible]e nets for 19 points. Guard Jackson Perry dropped in 12 from [illegible]ng range, three in the important [illegible]urth quarter.

It was a case of size against [illegible]peed with speed getting a slight [illegible]od. Sunnuck's and company led [illegible]om the early minutes of play [illegible]xcept for two minutes in the [illegible]nal period when the score was [illegible]ed.

[illegible]NLY TIMES AHEAD

Ontario's Center Charlie Ham[illegible]er opened the scoring by drop[illegible]ng in a free throw. Duane Wir[illegible]k scored from the floor and Dick [illegible]ill from the foul line to put the Minutemen ahead. Sunnucks then came though on a pair of hook shots. Dill added three points to the Lexington side but Perry came through with a one-hander to give Ontario a 7-6 advantage. The Warriors built it to 11-6 by the end of the quarter.

The second quarter was the only one in which scoring was in Lexington's favor. The Minutemen outscored the invaders, 7-3, and trailed 14-13 at the half.

Ontario held its biggest lead late in the third quarter, 25-18, before the Minutemen started to come back. They tied the count after two minutes were gone in the fourth quarter when Dill counted on a southpaw hook shot to make the score 27-27. Sunnucks and Perry then began to hit on long shots.

Lexington won the prelim, 35 to 14.

Union Defeats Plymouth Five

UNION — Ned Deihl connected with a pair of three throws in the last five seconds of an overtime period to give the Union basketball team a 34-to-33 victory over Plymouth in a Richland county league game last night.

At the conclusion of the regulation time, the score was knotted at 30 points. Union had led at the half, 17 to 12 The winners actually won from the foul line as Plymouth outscored them from the court, 13 to 11.

Dave Walker stopped Desmond Donnenwirth, Plymouth ace, with five points. Clyde Skeen, Union forward, was the leading scorer with 12 markers.

Plymouth won the reserve game, 29 to 11.

Have Fuel But No Ship

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Liquid hydrogen now could send a rocket to the moon at a speed of 30,000 miles per hour.

Ohio State university today took the top off its rocket fuel research for the first time to reveal that all that stands between inter-planetary travel is lack of a ship strong enough to make the trip.

Professor H. L. Johnston of the OSU chemistry department said laboratory experiments with liquid hydrogen rocket motors have produced enough energy to send an object beyond the earth's gravitational pull.

"All we need is a ship to put the liquid hydrogen in," Prof. Johnston remarked, "and that's coming."

The OSU work is supported by the U. S. air force, and is on the secret list. Prof. Johnston refused to comment on the possibility of using the fuel during a war.

Santa Claus Doesn't Want Snow; It Hinders Business

SANTA CLAUS, Ind. —(U.P.)— Santa Claus said today that there's one thing he can't stand, snow.

In this tiny hamlet, where Christmas is big business, snow is something no one wants.

"Snow may be part of Christmas," one of Santa's helpers said. "but it hurts our business."

The town's two Santa Claus palaces expect 300,000 persons to visit here during the yuletide, if it doesn't snow. A heavy snowfall over southern Indiana's scenic hills would keep motorists at home.

"People won't drive through snow and ice even to see Santa Claus himself," said William Koch, who runs Santa Claus land, one of two competing enterprises in the village.

Milton Harris, the other Santa Claus whose candy castle and toy displays are a mile down the road, said he personally likes a white Christmas, but agreed it wouldn't be good for business.

He said that with good weather, about 25,000 persons visit the town on Sundays during the holiday season. Many mail cards and gifts under the famous Santa Claus postmark.

The postmaster, Elbert Reinecke, said he expected a record load of 7,000,000 pieces of mail this year. Individuals and commercial firms send bags of mail here to be remailed.

Two years ago the post office department moved the post office from the village proper to Koch's Santa Claus land. Harris, whose place is near the old location, has waged an unsuccessful fight to have it "brought back to the historic Santa Claus." Koch contends the old post office was too small.

Harris says that the town's residents now have to walk a mile for their mail.

Kroger Oven-Ready Turkey gives you MORE MEAT per pound

Kroger Oven-Ready Turkeys are completely cleaned, fully dressed, ready to roast. Giblets are cleaned, placed in carcass. Enjoy the tenderest, juiciest, easiest-to-fix turkey you ever had . . . a better value. (An 11-lb. Kroger Oven-Ready Turkey is equivalent to a 14-lb. New York Dressed Turkey.)

New York dressed. Head, feet and insides (approx. 3 lb. waste) are weighed and included in the price.

Kroger Oven-Ready. 100% cleaned before you buy. A better turkey, a better value.
